Midshipmen are persons of integrity:

They stand for that which is right.

They tell the truth and ensure that the full truth is known.

They do not lie.

They embrace fairness in all actions. They ensure that work submitted as their own is their own, and that assistance received from any source is authorized and properly documented.

They do not cheat.

They respect the property of others and ensure that others are able to benefit from the use of their own property.

They do not steal.

Hi My name is Bingo..Welcome to Alpha! Call him Jeeps, Monkey, Bluejean, Newgene, Screwgene, Hugene, Soup, but don't call him late for practice. Have you done your homework yet? Snores like a chainsaw, Jeeps turn over! Random palm pilot alarms. 3 minutes until 5 minutes to formation! Be wary of the black snake. It's weird, the picture of me in my rack and you not there. The Wall. Beemer fixed 3 years and $3 million later. Be careful scraping the windshield, you might not get back on the yard! Helping a mail truck, helping the Saab lady, getting dirty, getting subway, then getting stuck! So, I hear ya like to push a little deck? Ah, Rockville. 2345: Justin trying to sleep, yelling at Ian, Ian dropping rifles and yelling at Justin, and Eugene dancing around the room with techno blaring. Look guys, if you're gunna break the rules, you might want to do it more quietly. 1M push ups, NG vs EWBIV. No, no, it's a too sexy! But I must! So what is the negative effects? It smells like axe in here! It's about that time eh chaps? Right-O. I'm le tired. Hey ya.

I love you for the girl I know you are...the passionate, athletic, beautiful Texas cowgirl who follows her heart. –JRC Who would have thought that studying more chemistry would bring us closer together? You were my savior, though you almost killed me twice driving through red lights (once in front of a fire truck)- BHG Everything life has thrown at us along the way… we have your scrapbook to help us remember it all! But it's the little things like knowing what each other is like at 0530 in the morning that really make our friendship so special. Thanks for being who you are, and helping me to figure out who I am– LAS My favorite roommate, oh wait. My swo buddy, braider, make up artist. "The mission of the United States Naval Academy is to develop midshipmen morally, mentally and physically and to imbue them with the highest ideals of duty, honor and loyalty in order to provide graduates who are dedicated to a career of naval service and have potential for future development in mind and character to assume the highest responsibilities of command, citizenship and government."

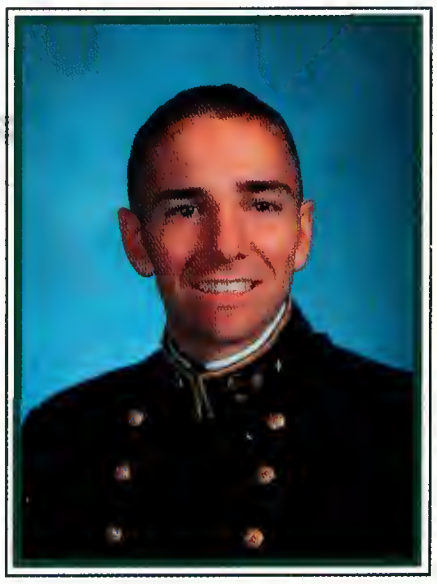
Thinking your cool because: you're older, drive a Trans-am, have a private pilots license, an aero major....on and on and on. Good times at the Jaime's beach house. 144 was the big number for that night. "What was that??? I don't know but here it goes again." The black Trans-am never being good enough. Silver Trans-am, only other car driven less than the Bronco (Except it is always parked at a close spot). Good times drinking Tequila in Veracruz. Always having places to go, but never letting us know where. All of the girls you IM but nobody has ever seen them. If anyone is going to be living a secret life, it's going to be you. Here is to the good times drinking Spaten Optimator at Rams Head. Here is to flying for the rest of your life. --- MBS How did you ever make it through this place? You had by far the hardest major in the world. I mean what other major makes you play four hours of flight simulator on PS2 everyday, 8 hours a day during finals. You do work hard at everything, homework, cars, women that you can't have. Just remember the movie "Unfaithful" and everything will be all right. How much money did we spend at Ram's Head? Don't you worry, we'll be forever immortalized at that bar with our own mug. Was $585 worth the price? I think yes. Now we can toast! Cheers to surviving the USNA! Cheers to flying! --- JMM

Collier Craig Crouch

Houston, TX
Navy Pilot



Few people are known as "The World Connoisseur." Collier came to the Naval Academy with his mind set on service selecting aviation. He did everything he needed to do, and then some. Collier was never one to stay idle or to stray away from a challenge. He kept himself busy with acolyte work, Lucky Bag Editor, and countless other activities. He chose to major in chemistry, one of the hardest majors at the academy becuase he thought it would challenge him and it was the only B he made plebe year . Collier did not set small goals, but he is on track to making most if not all of them come true. Collier's one of those people who will drop anything they are doing to help someone else out. I could always count on him for help even if I knew he did not have the time. He made mistakes, but learned from every one of them. He made a few enemies, but anyone who didn't get to know the real Collier really missed out. Good luck in the Fleet, I'm sure I'll see you out there. - JJ

"Ahhhh yeeeuh give it to your boy!!!!" JC was a late but welcome addition to the crew, spending two years in Italy on his mission. He's the first Mormon we ever met, but if they're all like him, then Utah can't be so bad. A legendary intramural warrior: this man had skills unlike anything Jan Dainard had ever seen. The most competitive person I know, he's good at everything he does, except fishing. And driving down streets in Las Vegas. Attracting women is no problem for this man: his dance moves could make you dizzy, but keeping 'em around proves a bit tougher. He holds records in Italy and America for 'number of women dated—once.' Even though he makes us look bad, he is the best roommate and friend a guy could ask for. He won the respect and admiration of his new classmates through his quiet demeanor and selfless attitude. A warrior on the field and a gentleman off of it, his good nature (and his dance moves) make him a welcome addition in any social setting. There's not many men in the world that we would want our sons to emulate, and JC's at tops the list. JAH JJL NEA.

Please keep your monkey anatomy and shaving cream cans to yourself. Newscasters, high schoolers, elementary school teachers, rugby players, bachelorettes, Englishwomen— Shamus and his wig have dated them all. Okay, maybe just kissed (but not necessarily only one at a time). No hotel? Find a Tepee. Tappin the resources at Immaculata. No, she's my schmoopie. Your schmoopie? Okay, she's our ex-girlfriend. You don't want her? Just pawn her off on Jon. Pull the trigger Sean—or just call everyone in your phonebook, it's only 2:30 a.m. Professional skier who can hit old ladies with deadly accuracy. Here, hold on to this pump. I like bagels, cream cheese, buttered popcorn and cool whip. I'm such a bad feminist. It tastes minty? DRY! He bit my stomach! Edward 40 hands, won by forfeit. Locked on little Napster, Ms. Flores puts out effort! S. J. scribbled everywhere. Papa Johns? Fetal position, Mmm..sugar free jelly beans. Crocheting and Mega Millions, not so much. Nap time, spilling 100 quarters. Brown/blond/ chocolate cherry/short/long but hair EVERYWHERE. Karen, enough said. Platinum recording artist in the shower. Pack rat-never, unique organization-definitely. Kashi under the desk? Making history in Nashville, I'll never forger the fun and the pain and I cannot thank you enough for helping me find the missing piece in my life-JMR. Through high hair contests and being complete opposites, you were my first friend here. Love you, Becs. To SWO MAMAism, craftiness, oogling over Enrique, Bible Study and OCF-God Bless-MW. The Introduction: Hi. My name is Shaina. You guys need any help? HA! Did we ever! My "no fun Christian girl" who dances on bars with me. I have learned so many things from you that I will always cherish –learn to braid your own hair!-LC. Your faith has been an encouragement in my life. I pray that we look to God for the rest of our lives. I will always love you…click-KJ. Hebrews 12:11, to all who supported me, thank you.

Rebecca Haley Gould

Gould's coming...I just heard her clear her throat. Either that, or your cracking ankle, but I suggest you stay away from any covert operation. Begging for rides at the Harbour center, mmmmmm...Whole Foods. Room treat, Joe Marines, Midstore again. Juanita, Patty, Lisa. Oorah, Yut and Semper Fi Payback is a medevac. Printing started...all of the memories have kept me laughing and have forged a bond that cannot be broken. Luv ya! JMR Well, I think that our friendship is pretty amazing considering we met doing what you love and what I hate…the Marines! But we made a good time of it, and I will never forget checking each other for ticks, or room talks, or our equal yet opposite obsessions (you-fitness, me-school). I will miss you Mrs. Bishop!~Di Always remember that there is not enough Love Spell in the world, bleach and ammonia will never mix well together, and that any problem can be solved by piling onto a rack. Our room was the best place to laugh, cry, vent, and live. Joe Marines forever (and a little swo). SNF To the whitest Cali girl the world has ever known, I know because you took me there. Thanks for coming back to the tree that day, God knows I wouldn't have made it through that day or the following years if you hadn't been there waiting on me. I will always remember the funest, yes I said FUNEST, room EVER. Me sleeping on you desk, Shaina and her somewhat random Christian admirers, and you refusing to use IM unless you were on my computer. Good luck with that whole Marine thing HOORAH! ~JRC

Matty J. Super genius…32's about right…I then I moan throwup. Out Cold meets Blue Juice meets Prefontaine. Adam vs. the computer. Dust is becoming unruly. Pete. Sumo wrestling at CONDOM. She kicked your butt! Pit stops at quiet waters… every quarter mile. The time Willy got froze at the naval station. Oh, I'm going EZ today. Sure. King of the Wall. Socially ept. I want a boyfriend too. She's very talkative in a non-interesting sort of way. Brigade Swim Bike Run Champions of the World. Blue Crush… sooooo hot. That was a lot of pull-ups. So we ate 4 pizzas and all the junk food in the house? Hey Matt! What? D'you loik…bread? Sleeps with a fan. The most obnoxious alarm on the planet. Race ya to the shower! Charlie "the printer". Who goes surfing in January? Wrestling the Sasqwatz and Benvenga at the same time! Do you like to play soccer? I like to play soccer. Oh by the way, instead of going out this weekend, you're hosting a troop. Thanks for volunteering. Mountain bikes to gate watch. Ha! You got an F on Ebay. Watch out for those medians, they sneak up on you. Hey Matt, you busy? WOW. Headphones = good investment. I choose you Pikachu! Chicken alarm.

Andrew Gustav Hemminger

Annapolis, MD
Surface Warfare

When looking back at the Naval Academy career of Andrew Hemminger, we must first understand his perspective. He is the only four year "V" in the institution's history. Therefore, "when a mannn loves a womannnn, he can't keep his mind on nuthin else, turns his back on his best friends".....anyway, don't worry about me, I will risk my life while you call the police....tattoos at midnight during YP's....getting thrown out of Preakness...waiting up at night in San Diego so we didn't get beat too bad...spending the night on the hotel floor...don't worry you're not going bald.....new years 2002 in the jeep....cowboys in Dallas..... you're a great photographer...car bombs...Boston homeless bar, "gotta hit it soft, like a....."....don't fall asleep in the car.... "you can't push a rope". Ha ha ha!...Oh my God we are dorks."..... "Ladies, who ordered the front flip?" ... "I'll fly over that wall..." Plankowner...

James Albert House

THAT"S WHAT DADDY LIKES!!" We always knew when Jim was pleased with himself. Almost heaven, WV...or is it NC? Or TN? Well there's no telling where in the South you'll find Jim, but you know he'll be wearin' his topsiders and dressed like a frat boy—no one around here quite has his style "'Jim: How'd you spell your name again?' Her: 'Kat...K-A-T' Jim: Oh, um, see I thought it was with a C.'" So he's a pilot? No a naval aviator. Whatever he is, I know he makes a great wingman, and he won't let you forget that he's "in the U.S. Military [mean face]." If you saw him run through downtown Annapolis in 70's clothing to get a CD so his roommate could propose, you'd know what I mean. If there ever was a laid back midshipman it was him. Whether it's in Daytona on SB or in the river he's always fun to be around. You'll never hear someone speak poorly of him, and he never speaks poorly of others. A true "dude." Jim is a friend's best friend. Best listener and the quickest wit around. Gotta love him. His favorite verse is Phil 4:13. The best part about Jim, he always took that strength and passed it on. With that being said..Jim can we spoon now??? JJL, JCD, IJV, NEA.

Jedadiah Jamerson

Jed is the type of guy that you always go to when you want something good to happen. He has seen a lot of adversity, but it still holds true that he is the luckiest guy that you will ever meet. He has challenged himself to become a better person every minute of his life and he has never given up on his dreams. The Naval Academy has been good for him, it brought him from a boy to a man, and it taught him to dream farther than he had ever though. He inspires all whom he is around and has a genuine care for the well-being of others. Whenever I need a piece of luck to brighten my day I will know where to look. Love ya man, CCC. Dude, plebe rifle, incessant IM's from me youngster year, weapons detail was ridiculous; what are you doing this weekend? Studying??? no way, dude; back a little late from xmas leave?; Blizzard weekend...I remember enough to know what happened; HFS festival and Long Islands; thanks for taking pics on my 21st; Houston Bowl..'nuff said; love ya, dude and you know it... Jon – Picking up chicks in Orlando clubs, parties at UF, want to eat at Papparazi's? You turned off the alarms?! Drinking in NYC, Surfing, yeah I'll try it. Hardcore trainer, PT stud, best friend, you got it all Johnny K. It took you long enough to make the right choice! Once a Marine, always a Marine. See you in TBS bro.

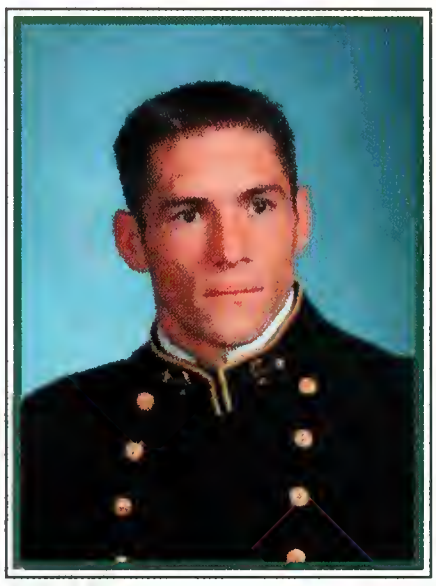
John Joshua Lowery

Wingate, NC
Navy NFO



"Hey Romeo…lets go fishin' at Tuckahoe!" Funny how "wettin' a line" together can form a friendship stronger than brothers. We've shown our fair share of Balto/DC residents "a couple real hillbillies", that much is for sure. The Fast Freddy started it all, and God knows that ship could form a bond between anyone. Don't let those "Red Eye's" get to you Josh, a NFO--er, naval flight officer--needs his vision. You best watch out when those boys from Dixie walk into a bar, cause no Yank is buying this place out! Play "Freebird" man! He's a laugh and a confidante…a friend to the core, Josh always cowboyed up. There'll be no regrets, no worries and such, for cowboys like us…Josh is the definition of southern, not in that bad way that makes you cringe, but in the way that makes you feel welcome and at home wherever and whenever. Not to mention he does have that really flashy gold fishing hook on his hat. Top class if you ask me. That there's funny…

The hula dancing, stuffed animal decapitating, roommate maiming, elite warrior of the sea. From Screen Door Man to all the stuff in Whistler that I can't repeat here. So what if tomorrow is boxer brief Friday, he'll throw it out the window anyway. Best guy to have at your side when you like to pick fights in bars -- but the worst if you want to pick up chicks cause he's usually the funniest dancer in the club. Dude, you going Corps? "Sorry I can't come to the phone right now. I'm ringing in the new year with my buddies in Houston!" Sleep in the shower much? Rain camping in the Jeep with only a cooler to survive. Super IM pimp machine. Do they wear shoes in West Virginia? A consummate partier always. "Did you see that - I beat him at darts!"; Adam, he's a cripple. Oh wow, you're how old? "She dressed up like a school teacher, with a pencil in her hair and everything!" Destroyer of Plebes. Go to the Midstore, NOW. What's that in the snow, it looks kinda like a big…. After school happy rack time. PTing on the fantail of the YP, now to South Boston!! "Arnold" will be changing scenery from the mountains of WV, while SWOing it up in tropical Hawaii hoping to see many Asian beauties!! "Hey Charlie and Nick, let's take the duty van for a night on the town with the jimmy legs!" Will do anything to help a young (but still older) bachelorette in need. He drinks like a fish and PT's like a beast!!! Adam, you can be my wingman any time!!!

Kyle Moore... Tree Room Co-founder... likes bugs and pizza and has the metabolism of a hummingbird. If you need anything from him, stop by early cause he's in bed by 8. Avid athlete who loves racquetball, swimming, lifting and golf. If you've got something he doesn't, he'll get it. Then sell it three months later. Girls love him, even after regurgitation. Snowboarder for life... it's SO much more fun than skiing. Screw you guys, I'm on the mountain by 4:30 AM. The second one to take seconds... who needs permission anyway? It's a littlecold, and a littlewet. You can hear him and his system coming from a mile away, watch out for that fresh wax job. Wherever he might be, his heart is still in Cali cause he probably just checked the weather there five minutes ago. You did WHAT to my Gatorade bottle?? "There are no corn dogs in New York" but he's the number one fan of Jane's grilled cheese, In-And-Out Burger, and all other food/candy except for seafood. Always watching Aicha, PeanutbutterJellytime, Gonads and Strife, or GI Joe Public Service Announcements. Highlight of his life - watching Top Gun after receiving Navy Pilot and while receiving a warm.....oh just watch the movie. WOO WOO! Going to marry Kate Bosworth someday. Oh yeah, he's never getting married. All he needs is a helo, his toothbrush and a few cases of Red Fusion. Ring-da-da-ding-ding-ding!

I'm a freakin' well oiled machine right here!! Anyone seen the bathroom? Oh the wall next to the TV, thanks. If I don't get CC, I will KILL YOU. If I don't get Marine Corps, I will KILL YOU. "Hey gunny I think I cut myself" or my hula dancin roommate slashed my finger trying to skewer a decapitated stuffed duck. YUT! I set the standard with political correctness – openness to others always! Sir, I think 20 beers in 2 hours is a tad too much of the right spirit. Many nights have been spent in DTA with this Hard Charger. I'll just sleep here in Jane's yard. I emptied my guts on the Metro!! 5 guys, 144 beers, 8 hours....any questsions?? You want who in your squad..... awwww yeeaaaah!! Your name is Scarlet, eh? Who needs their number, I don't want to TALK to them!! Just take a stroll down West Street at 0230. Many exciting encounters with lots of lovely ladies have proven that the force is strong in this one. Why yes, my older hot bachelorette, I'll help you complete your goals. After scuba diving, let's take a trip in the duty van!! Bring Charlie for his personality and you call the jimmy legs!! Just going back to the yard, sir!! Graciously opening his home to many poor, ailing Mids during the cold winter months for beer, an exciting bowl game, and an awesome New Year celebration. Nick is true friend. Give'em HELL Devil Dog!

Christopher James Pittman

Do you have any clue how much of a stud this guy is? Chris sure knows it when he flexes in the mirror five times a day. Another of my roommates who made the all time restriction record of 120 days. Maybe he'll learn to stop letting Matt be such a bad influence on him or he wouldn't have had to leave us with only one semester to go. Wait, I thought roommates were supposed to write these…I guess we'll make an exception as Chris will always be our roommate, even when he doesn't live in our room. Sometimes I'm glad he's gone, I don't have to deal with an obnoxious drunk like on his 21st birthday (j/k). Wait, that was my fault! The look Chris's mother gave Matt and I when we delivered their now 21 y/o son stumbling drunk for their road trip to Atlantic City will be burned into my memory. Especially the second time after he vomited in their van and we had to clean him up…again. Good times at the Rams Head and every other bar Chris got his woman drinks at. I must admit, they did taste good, but not as good as Helles! Chris will be the best pilot that ever got assigned NFO this Navy has seen. The only Mid I know to do well in classes by playing Everquest…maybe Poli Sci and killing imaginary creatures have something in common? Bringin it straight to ya from the days of 1105. You know its all about common sense…so why don't we have any? I mean all you gotta do is line it up…just like in real basketball. Bad boys to the end! I wouldn't have gotten this far without you dragging me along. Twins? Tropical vacations in Bancroft Hall, Chinese dinners (you know the name), memorable "dates" with old friends (you finally repaid me for that one!). You were never afraid to let the girly drinks flow.

No guys, you go ahead, I don't have any money to spend on YOU. On the weekend? Oh I'll be taking the woman to dinner, movies, drinks……the works. Hey I'm 21, let's get the duty van, bring some civies…..hell even invite the jimmy legs!! Jimmy legs: "What're you boys doin in there?" Charlie: "Just getting dressed, sir." Could be 0100 or 1300, He's probably racking out for the night, stop by tomorrow!! Naval Law with Nick. So what do they have in Nebraska? Groundhogs. Have you seen Charlie? I haven't seen him all semester. Blues on the Bay, drunk jazz with Andy. "Mr. Platt, get that inflection out of your voice!!" The instigator. Southern girls are and will always be the cutest. What can you tell me about these "soft shoulder boards" I keep hearing about? Kettlebells Comrade? Judo know if I gotta gun! You have second off? No? How about a trip down to the Midstore? "I've got a new scheme to make my millions, interested?" You shut-up, Math is cool! Excuse me, could you be more politically correct, I'm offended. Gotta love those bachelorettes up at Galway Bay… milkshake please? Seeing the light, Charlie has left the warm glow of nuclear rods for the cool breeze of the blue sky.

These past 4 years of lockdown have been memorable to say the least, and I couldn't have made it through here without all of you guys. Carter, thanks for being a great roommate and friend. Despite the popular myth that you play video games all day, everyday, I think I know better than anyone that you really do have character and depth. We had some great talks about everything imaginable…Higgins boats, "the man", sarge, strongbad, women, The Big Lebowski, etc. Thanks for the laughs and best of luck in the Corps. Kyle, we had some great times from the start and I consider you one of my best friends. Plebe year would've been extremely boring if we didn't find random ways to make things funny. Thanks for everything and we'll see ya in Pcola. And to all of my friends here in 1st Co. who are too numerous to mention with too many memories to recall, we made it! Through the hard times, the good times, the scandalous times, and all the times in between, we have arrived, it's finally OUR time. Best of luck to all of you! See you on the outside!

My LI friend who made laughter apart of these past four years. Stop swiffering, we have to hide Barbie. Amish market, country music marathon, long runs just to talk about life, EE boats, the wrecking crew of badminton. Can I open the package? Sacred room poem. Sharing clothes and even parents for a weekend. Open window, polar bears, gravity, pink hair-sorry about that. Close the soda, no more company emails. Ring dance=new dresses. Can I do a routine? NKOTB tape. Fights...never. Yelling...just for fun. Great. By my side for these years and on my big day, I thank you. Enough "Shaina and Jen" moments for a lifetime, I cannot wait to see what God has in store for you, Matt 7:7—SNF(J). To compulsive five a.m. workouts and three outers in a row, Lime Tostitos and Guacamole Doritos, Whole Foods salads and hoping someone will give us a ride while the doors in front of Staples opens and closes, Leatherneck and dip, room treats, obsessive cleaning. Life is full of little pleasures and you have provided so many of them. I will always love you.—Bec. My roommate, does anyone question her? No, that's just Jen. Plebe summer - interesting eating habits, her rat, Mr. Kenny and Kay. We survived it all - and now who will give me Swedish fish and twizzlers??-LC.

The Mexican momma's boy. lets live in Mother B for four years. Went from clueless, to SWOtivated, to finally Navy Pilot, who would have guessed? Hess's squad with Strubs, did you ever know anything? All calls for months with Blackmon-Combs. Chief Slaughterbach, "PC's?? You want a man size ship!" "A real man just reaches in there and flips it." Near brawl in King Hall. Drive by fry. Restriction. First time out of the USA. Drinking from the Vodka bottle. More hot cousins than a friend could ever hope for. Always got the "private" side of the room. Watt's caught ya. Who left the surprise in the sink? Loud guitars and African drum pounding. Congrats Manolo, Navy Air is the only way to go. – RLC The first time we met had to be the time we were staring at each other face to face sweating our cajones off doing pushups while getting screamed at by Mr. Adams. Economics was a good call, you get to sleep 12 hours a day. It was good times though. Remember Chavez and the hotel party when all the other guys bailed so we were left to entertain all the women. Thanks for the insight south of the Border, siestas and the food were incredible. –JMM To the guy who started my never-ending trend of nicknames (James, Jaim… the list goes on). To the guy who went from pulling me through muddy obstacle courses, to lightly grasping my hand for Ring Dance Pics. To the guy who became my best friend and my biggest competition. It's funny how sometimes I feel like I have known you forever, and others as though my life didn't start until I met you…Here's to diet coke and chex mix in the middle of the night, b-ball games to relieve stress, and YOU being the smart one. A big thanks to my parents for all there support, you're really great. To all the friends I've made here, it's been real for sure. I'm glad I met each of you so keep in touch and I'm sure we'll hook up at some point in the upcoming years, especially when I need to borrow money (just playing). And don't forget those kids that aren't with our group anymore...Doc, Dude, Shades, Corona, Vogel, (Not Winklewoman)...They're apart of who we are as much as the rest of us. To all my Boys from home, you're the reason I do any of this, total inspiration till the end, so give me about five more years and we will ride again... harder than ever.

Sure, Potato Country. Vogel and I breaking Heaphy in over Plebe Summer. Never forget Shaedler, Vogel, and Sanchez. Jaime Leverence – that's a first. Fitz and Recon, roommates and friends. Fitz and the mouse. Two more semesters of John and Eric. Aero sucked, but it's the best major. Varsity Aero that is. None of that space stuff. Wind Tunnels, enough said. Ben – friend and confidant. Beau – YP's for life. The Lion King on Broadway. Eugene – I'll never forget the stuff we got him to do in NYC. P-3's blow. Got back together with high school flame – 10 JUL 04; she's the One for me. I love you Emily Christine!! 3.8 GPA career high followed by a 3.0 career low. Firsties at last, couldn't come fast enough, won't leave soon enough. Unlimited weekends! Oh wait… nevermind. K14 (Kirschenheiter) and I in a huge room. Winning football season!! Commander and Chief's Trophy!! Last brigade PRT ever. Paul gets married, who'd have though e'd be the first of the four!?! Service Selection – Snow angels in SDB's. Service Assignment – Beer and an August 6th flight school date. Last semester. One thing ends, but real life begins. I won't mind leaving this place, but I'm glad that I came. Many more memories left for drinking stories with friends. So many friends; a true bond above and beyond differing personalities. I'd do anything for you all. Its be a rough ride, but its been a thrill.

Four years at the Naval Academy has been stressful, sometimes painful, but I would never trade the friends and the memories for anything else. The time has flown by and it is time to move on in life. Baseball – On the team for three years and did not one start in a game, but never regret being on the team. Company Commander – Did not want to do it, but it was a good experience. Navy Pilot – Time to start the rest of my life. My best friend, you've always been there when needed, man, and I really appreciate that. Another mother to me, always cleaning up my crap. I always give you a hard time, but I appreciate everything you have done. Do not stop working hard, you are gonna be an awesome pilot and I would be honored to be your wingman. -Sean Running is a way of life, but watch out for speckles .:.:.:.. It's cold… Geo Metros are cool! How do you get quarters stuck in your jacket? Incoming flashlight! Chevy's is pretty far away, got a cigar? Movie theater leftovers. Midnight knitting. Mobius strip! Killington… hell no. Staying up 2 days straight from Hollywood to Vegas. Crazy Horse, no wonder they call him Crazy! Eating kalbi and rice in the room. Rolling around drunk in the club, throwing up on the Turnpike on the way to the Army Navy FB game. Popping wheelies in Baltimore. Did a rhino stomp on your finger?! I invested my career starter loan into having fun. Goofy jigs in Peter's room, making fun of JK with Jimmy. 4-wheelin at the stadium. Working on the huffy today? Or should we strip at date auctions in GW? Either way, 2 hr drive to Ocean City tomorrow. Let's buy more surfboards than we can afford and drink somewhere. Italian restaurants on M street, and shady DC nightclubs, no half breeds here. NYC was too much fun, especially with alarms that don't go off (or someone turning them off). Either way, what a great time. We ride together, we die together. Marines for life. Otto- We gotta get in shape for real now….riiight. Thanks for sharing some of the better times we've spent at the academy with me. Run run Ginger Bread Man!!! Eric is the kind of guy you cannot walk through the hall with without stopping to talk to someone he knows. Most of the time it is a lady friend of his, but you can't hate a player. The Marines are lucky to have this motivated Hoorah that constantly serenades the room with cadences when he is in the shower. He is a great guy though, after you get past the massive pictures of himself running that reside on his desk. There is never a dull moment with Eric around (especially when he has had tequila); whether it is ordering Ooglie Googlies at Chevy's, constant phone calls from his mom, OFBM ISO one WG, and constantly being assassinated by a finger gun as he enters the room like a SWAT team. For years I've had my doubts about you, but deep down inside I know you're batting for the home team. "I'm like Allen Iverson, Doug is like Vince Carter and Clay is like Larry Bird. Well who does that make me?... Charlie Ward. Its stuff like that, that'll ensure the name CGR lasts a life time. This convo doesn't go outside this car right?" Remember--there's 8 lanes to life and life is a game of seconds, just like track. See you patrolling the skies. Brenna Scharp....its been a great ride....and something tells me the fun is just beginning. From the nail clipper incident to our firstie year....speechless is the first thing that comes to mind. Screaming late at nite....skillbuilder....you know you're going crazy when....the letter you wrote that still holds its own special place. We've been through it all, but somehow only the best times stand out. Like nites in Cancun and crazy grapefruit diets and foam parties. And conversations for hours about everything and anything. Trips to the shore (with and without Faith)....and to get "snacks"....and how you always seem to know just when to call me out. Thanks for being the reason I made it through and the reason I get out of bed when I don't want to. What a crazy and interesting four years it's been Lil. We have definitely gone through a lot together. Through all of our laughs, tears and "roommate tiffs" you have always been there when I needed you the most. We have so much to look back on and laugh at – "The B-2 Spirit Sir?," our crazy and delirious nights in Cancun, our "you know you're going crazy when…" lists, parties at the shore house, "Lily, what are you doing?!?!?" You hated me over plebe summer, but that's alright, I would have hated me too, always yelling at you and telling you what to do. You, Jen and I have some awesome memories, we really do. I love how we always seem to act tougher when we're together and laugh hardest at each other's jokes. You always give the best advice and I'm always wondering how you just seem to know certain things. I can't wait for Mayport Lil, the fun times haven't even started yet.

Powerpuff girls throwing crutches out the window, wings, Herndon party, drama in N.C., tropical 20, checkley's angels- Katie..Flying in FL, caffeine headaches, sailing in Naptown heat, relaxing by illegal pool-Jaime....3 years and countless hours on the Severn, ridiculous nights in B-more freshman year, and showing up drunk to St. Mary's the next day, sneaking out over and over again (esp. in Boston), ORANGE,thinking your dad was going to kill us for our stupidity (again and again).. french maids, ice cream happy hour.. snowballs (with marshmallows?) breaking into RCSC to sleep during SMT.. "Do you girls need help?"-the ski patrol as we tried to ski UP the hill.. You, me and Jaim at Cheers-we are the worst singers ever, but we will still audition for Am. Idol together, always had fun doing nothing and laughing at things that weren't funny to anyone else? No one understands our matching yellow visors and Hawaiian flowers-Alexa..Me bashing most-finally not all!! of your boyfriends, you me and Alexa on spring break sunning at RCSC, OOMPA LOOMPAS (but we did go wacko after having so many people sing that song)..we all feel the same: your fam is like our own and the times have been great-Lydia.

From random wrestling in his early days to painting to the wee hours of the morning, Groot has made the most of his academy experience. During his time here he has learned many valuable lessons, of which, it is not the fall that is going to get you.....its the sudden stop on the coffee table and sometimes its best just to be yourself.....on Halloween, are not the least. Groot is more than ready to move on from this place and begin his servitude in other aspects. To the best of times, to the worst of times. You have made your family proud and continued the USNA family tradition, even taking a semester off as an exchange student at the climbing wall your senior year. What a wild 4 years it has been. It's amazing how one thing can happen and it takes 2 years and an M-16 to get over it. "How is it that you never have any homework?" You know I only use you for your brain. By the way, "Can you help me with MAPLE?" Weapons class alone was an experience. Aside from all that, you have taken to re-introducing H girls to the Academy. Something I've never understood, "How do you know every girl on the yard and still come out empty handed?" If you can't get a good girl, get a W, S, or H girl. To the brotherhood of the black shirts of Glee Club tours and the countless adventures we've had. "What the… did you fall asleep again?" "Yeah, thank God for rumble strips!" The fun continued, from Houston to Bourbon St. and on to Rio. And don't forget, that $300 was your fault! You are many things to many people. You are always there when needed, always a true friend, the one I can tell anything to, the voice of reason, the one who always keeps me grounded, and the one everyone can count on. Friends forever – DGJ, JCP, MWM, JML, & JMH

Jimmy Jin Suk Suh- Did a lot of growing up and learning about myself through the four years. I learned that the most important things in my life are my family and friends. Jason: Always there to remind me to take a break and live life a little. Many good memories through the 3 ½ years of BMB. James and JK: Without you boys life as a mid would've been too much and too serious. Marcus: the one that got me looking good and ready for Costa Rica. Reactor Corps! Beating up Otto in his own room, picking on Jon K, sleeping in late over Army-Navy, running red lights in NYC, surfing Maryland and Costa, Los Angeles BBQ's, holding belt buckles on highways, do you wanna die?!, Accceeee! Let's do some mountain-climbers in the garage, I hit 145 what's your max? Thanks for making these past 4 years memorable and fun Jimmy, K-boyz for life. Now, off to take care of business!

Despite how out of place you may feel In this race oh you just can't quit
Ain't that a - that being heat I'm on the beat like cops Only cultivate the stable dirt when I place my drops
No concentrating knocking other people out the box Why?--Cause in a sense
See we all be kind of fly Just can't be scared to spread your wings Head to better things
Maybe the mockingbird and nightingale they want to sing--keeping this thing alive
To the table's what we bring We like hailstorms and blizzards in the middle of the spring

Ever since I can remember, I had wanted to attend the Naval Academy. Both of my parents were retired Naval Air traffic controllers. While I traveled the country and the world with my parents as we moved from duty station to duty station (Iceland, Lemoore, Alameda, Corpus Christy, Pensacola, Key West). I was home schooled with my two brothers Aaron(Army Enlisted) and Kurtis (Enlisted Navy Nuke). At the age of 17, I attended military prep school in St. Petersburg Fl, at Admiral Farragut Academy. After two short years there, I came to the Naval Academy in the Summer of 2001, as a member of the class of 2004. During my four years by the bay, I have evolved personally and professionally so that I would not recognize the person I was before I came here. I have developed a deeper love for the ocean and sailing than I could have ever dreamed. My best memories and most trying times at the academy will be forever embodied on the countless hours I spent offshore sailing during the summer. The struggles I have endured in my life while at the academy have brought me to the brink of self destruction and back again more times than I can count. I am a more capable person, warrior, and American than I could have ever been with out the Naval Academy in my life. For this, I will be eternally grateful.

Welcome to the lifestyle of Donyale West. How would his peers describe him? Roommate 1: That Donyale always beat me in Madden, he had that special touch with the A button, but I made up for my low self-esteem by stealing his fake girlfriend and making her mine. We had great time with bathroom wild-mans our last 2 years… He wouldn't say our bathrooms are the best though, instead he would say the mall family bathrooms are the best. Always remember not Donyale North or Donyale South or even Donyale East but Donyale West. Roommate 2: At first I didn't respect Donyale because he took our extra closet when he moved in but I realized he can be of help to me. He can blackify me and teach me how to pick up hot chicks, so I decided to give him a chance. It worked! I now play rap and R&B and know the ebonics, but somewhere down the line it messed up. We whitified him! Self Reflection: I'M HOT!! Hot or Not says so 9.1 baby!!! My Annie!! 23 to 29 to 3.

From the Halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli we fight our country's battles in the air on land and sea. First to fight for right and freedom and to keep our honor clean; We are proud to bear the title of United States Marines. Our flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun; We have fought in every clime and place where we could take a gun. In the snow of far-off Northern lands and in sunny tropic scenes; You will find us always on the job --The United States Marines. Here's health to you and to our Corps which we are proud to serve; In many a strife we've fought for life and never lost our nerve. They give me 350 words to make a lasting impression. I only need two: thank you. Although there were the notes I forgot to write, the envelopes I forgot to seal, and the stamps I forgot to lick, I still remember it all. I'm so lucky to have you all in my life. Bridgepot- you've always stood right beside me; your spirit reaches out and takes hold of whatever you do, be it the small kindnesses or the lifelong friendships. BHH- bottom line, the best hugger I know. BAH – thanks for mixing it up and putting up with me. Dad and Mama – everyone who has ever met you has told me how lucky I am. Thank you for a love so encompassing, and a love which makes me most independent. Katie and Cici- although we have all set out to scatter as far as possible from each other in every aspect of life, we always return to laugh at the same kitchen table. I am equally gracious for your wisdom… and that we will never share a bathroom again. To the teachers who are too many in number and too rarely recognized, thank you for nurturing my curiosity and driving me to explore rocks unturned, books unopened, and canvases unpainted. The Legacy Boys – rare have I found so much warmth in a room, thanks for sharing the password. 3rd Squad taught me there is a time and a place for cheerful determination and it's not at 0515. My woos – you inspire, you challenge, and you ruck. And most of all, to my biggest fan, I will try every day to love as hard as you have loved: without question, without reason, without limits.

To hanging in and holding fast when things were really absurd and confusing, and the end was no where in sight, and I wondered what I was doing here. To people I couldn't make it through here without- the McCarthy family, who helped me open my eyes and see things as they are not as I was told they are, Daledo, Stoner, Greene Machine, Dilz, Doogie. To keeping the fire in your heart and soul where no one could snuff it or warp into what they wanted it to be. To not allowing any wall or rule to really contain you. "Then pale and worn, he kept his deck, and peered through darkness. Ah, that night of all dark nights! And then a speck -- a light! a light! at last a light!
It grew, a starlit flag unfurled! It grew to be Time's burst of dawn.
He gained a world; he gave that world its grandest lesson: 'On! Sail on!'"

Matt Holladay, best knows at USNA and around Annapolis as Doc, is from Montgomery, AL. He was a motivated young student with dreams of being a navy pilot. Naturally, it wasn't long after he got to the academy that his motivation waned and he became just another mid trying to make it to graduation. Doc never did study much, and sleeping came much more easily anyways. He can usually be found drinking a Coke and is often said to have problems with too much blood in his coke-stream. He enjoys playing racquetball and golf, and does so whenever he can. While at the academy he studied Computer Science, and has decided that means that he can pass tests, but doesn't really know anything useful. Doc service selected navy pilot, and is looking forward to Corpus Christi for primary training. His social life has been condemned to marriage on Sep 4th to the wonderful and beautiful Kylie Rice. Whatever, cause we have come a long way from rubbing butts in our tiny room at NAPS and you not listening to my ramblings about Jesus. But, I won't hold it against you for kicking me out for a year...after all, you did hold my pee bottle for me...and throwing darts at each other was always good fun. Well, I've been destined since 99 to annoy you wherever you go, so I'm sure that I'll be seein ya on the boat on my way to the gulf. I'll see ya in the fleet bro, and pass that Cope man...just pass that Cope.

Ugur Yetkin

Turkey
Turkish Navy - Surface Warfare

When young Ugur Yetkin got off the boat from Turkey he couldn't speak a word of English, but he had aspirations of greatness in the land of opportunity. Unfortunately for him, he stood in the wrong line and wound up in Alumni Hall on I-day 2000. Since that fateful day, Ugur has been making the best of his life as USNA. He became a computer scientist (which means he passed a lot of tests, but doesn't really KNOW anything). He tried a variety of sports including tennis and racquetball, and he tried to educate the "stupid Americans" on the finer points of European handball. In his free time, Ugur enjoys dancing the tango, salsa, and giving briefs on the Middle East and Turkey (with a capital T, otherwise he'll yell at you and say "it's my country, not an animal"). Ugur has service selected "Turkish Navy" and, for the fine American education he received, he owes his government 20 years of service. He will tell you it is not enough. Ugur will return to Turkey with 4 years of free education, many great memories, and even a few new friends.

Ah, Ricky Foe, where to begin… Plebe summer began; you were the 12th monkey infecting the entire company and remained sick for nearly 12 weeks. You moved in with Noe, who you affectionately called "Lunchbox", second semester plebe year and the trouble began. Your Halloween costumes were legendary and generally in poor taste, you were hardcore enough to break your hand on some dude's face, learned that your left hand is much different that your right, and began your trips to Ithaca College Youngster year. You were conned into becoming training corporal, training sergeant, training officer, and plebe detail simply because "you looked angry", which eventually landed you in Major's office. Three times accused of cutest physics major in a bathing suit. In fact, I think you were offered a job modeling the new Quantum physics book in exotic locales while wearing little to nothing as your TAD. The mass of a photon shall be, now and forever more, known to be exactly 1.00000 Rickys. The best times were on our coke runs and in the room, our only safe haven within the Naval Academy's walls, where there were wrestling matches, soccer brawls, continual rants, and movie sessions to take our mind off the question which we asked each other daily…. Why didn't we just go ROTC?

Ah Mark, I trust you with my life, just not with my money or my wife. We spent the better part of four years together, and we saw some good times mixed in the standard Academy drudgery. Youngster year was spent in physics class quoting old movies and ruining monitors in the lab with a magnet. Most of 2/C summer/year was spent BD in SHP as you came to terms with your new antisocial lifestyle. Firstie year was spent both in the Hunt's basement and walking through the perpetually terrible weather to your car at Hospital Point. When the final tally is taken it will show that we will have survived three soul crushingly bad movies, two apocalypses, two terrible sorority parties, one ghetto Virginia Beach HoJo, one particular commandant, one dead body, dozens of NCAA 2004 seasons, and countless eXtreme challenges.

All in all it was a pretty good run.

Beer... The man with the ideas. Whether it was ways to optimize the Corridor92 calculator game, network some YP's or build an electromagnetic railgun Beer is the man to talk to. The man with a keg of creative juices that are always on tap, a one minute conversation with him will most certainly yield results. Blowing things away with 9mm's and M-16s over the summer weren't nearly enough fun without playing Red Alert 2 until the wee hours of the morning during Weapons Detail, and listening to Slim Shady at the start of every day on our way to 'work'. Or driving 'a little over the limit' back to our respective homes with a little radar detector named Synthia in his souped-up set of wheels. The fun really started when The Cox roomed with Beer during the senior year and Beer purchased an X-Box and all GPA's automatically lowered. I never knew hockey could be so much fun... I also have never seen players get lit on fire after scoring a one-timer before... (NHL Hitz) "Clarity comes in the morning." Beer to The Cox, after failing to beat the last level of Halo on Legendary at 0300. (We beat it the next day after three attempts.) Finally, service selection. What better way to remember than to get perspectives from polar opposites...I once told you this place made lifelong friends. You looked at me like I was crazy, and said you'd be glad to forget everyone here. While you are right about, well, almost everything, you're wrong about that. Whether you want me or not--you have me as a friend for life, so ha. I finally win. If you ever need a smile, call me up; I'm good for entertainment, at least. Here goes: blue ducks; Minky; the scary monkey; "But it's my favorite blanket." "I know."; Houston; Preakness; "But, I love this song!" "I know."; your damn blank message. If you ever get tired of 1,000 acres in the middle of nowhere, come find me by the beach. Thanks for knowing how to deal with a nut.---Sammy Dockers, if we never roomed together, we'd have been happier people. Ok, maybe not. We did find plenty of "intelligent" ways to pass the time (Water balloons at the lake?). Every Southern stereotype I had, you proved right (c'mon, loan = truck and guns). Mutual misery made us friends, but it's been worth it. A few memories: grilling; PBR; shooting; the third roommate; is it hot in here?; "This is Plt Sgt C, may I speak to the nearest plebe?" 0400-where is Sam and why is the shower running? I turned more Southern than you turned Yankee, and if I fail out of nuke school, I will hunt you down.-AOF & SP

It has to be the spunkiness...NWL defense and all the fun times on and off the field...Starting traditions at Dillos with the crew...Sonny Shane Marg and Mary, those were the days. And who can forget the Smiths...We had a great time there didnt we...Mids coming out of the woodwork on a Sunday morning after crashing cause of the rain. Who are all these people? But you said leave the dishes on the table...thats what I did. Spring Break >03 with the crew minus one...Shanes rocket fuel on the way back form Destin, bowling and pool ending up at the Waffle House...is it really 2AM?... 4th of July and meeting Nate, wow hes really tall... Christmas Break in Gulf Shores...how much fun did we have and no that tree wont light on fire...17 hours of fun from AL to MD...whats with us and Waffle House...at least this time we stole the show...Truck drivers suck...Mary...how fast are we going? Double dates and late night movies, mexican food and tons of fun. Bragging to each other cause no one else will listen...Complicating our lives and then learnin not to worry. Service Selection...dont worry M youll get Mayport and I was right too. Time to move to FL M.

From a young age you've had but one goal in life: to grow up and be a devildog just like your daddy. There were bumps and pitfalls along the way, but good friends make good Marines. You'll always have the support you need- right down the hall or just a phone call away. Movie nights, Stevinator, squadmates/roommates from the start, the crazy addition of Mary and Spring-until the crucifixion, conlocker convenience store, Beach Babes in FL, best navy running buddies, racing down the stairs, house runs and our hero Melissy. Anne, pseudo roommates, horror stories with burning skulls, waiting on leatherface, not understanding the complexities of the situation. I know that voice, solitaire races, it's just Elmo, sweeping roaches under doors. I love me some youngsters, I got two stripes, telling Drew EVERYTHING, "Ma'am, is it going to be a good day?" Frederick seems like a nice central location. In company, walks, drunk dialing, Creed concert, stone mountain, 4:30 in the morning, ice age, three words: four languages, midrates, dreams, Bahamas, "rockin the car and singing along," stuck in GA, American Idol, chateau, diamond stud earrings or a pony, finally letting you drive my car, didn't mind the traffic, the shirt, Mayer, Motis, Mercury, Max, a great year and 2 mos., a shaky 6 mos. can't change what happened before it. I'll never be the same. There is no way to cover everything. You've touched me in a way you may never fully understand. "I loved you, grey sweatpants, no makeup, so perfect. Our love was comfortable and so broken in." You can't hide beautiful. –MJM, ASH, KE, CM, QR

Drew-rah! The Nyquist Nuke, the bandpass bad-boy, you couldn't even engineer a system if your life depended upon it. Always looking for a way to make 5 bucks. "Is your name really hoorah??" You're so responsible. But we definitely can't take you anywhere, "Sir, will you please calm down!" Youngstas…I love 'em. Long talks about how love is intangible. Maybe if you would just stop stalking girls for once. The 24-hour advice hotline. After one weekend: "Yes I have a girlfriend…Yes I'm in love…" Rum and Cokes, head in a trash can. Spending 4 years trying to figure out that crazy Columbian. A hopeless romantic, just too bored to care. The nexus of all female knowledge. "Special" stories. Long island iced teas, "I love me some youngsters", what street was that?, talks in the doorways, detail, psyco dude, two stripes, Frederick, jeep Cherokees, my confidante, the one guy who just gets it. From the first day you walked briskly onto the decks of 8-3, NordicTrack, we knew you were destined for greatness. Plebe summer we could always count on you to keep your bearing, well except for all the goofy times like when we had to straighten Mary's hair, bury the dead mouse, name our rifles (after dead pets?), and just classic room mate moments. Plebe year was filled with sunbathing in the gutter, making dance videos when we should have been studying, you keeping us fed with microwaved ziti, trying on clothes and taking pictures. Youngster year we had facials with Anne, three extra room mates (who had their own message box), your daily letters and flowers, hidden Easter eggs in the room, your first ring dance (ahem… Charlie) and countless other memories. Then you left us for second company, but you were always a Hott Sixxer at heart. Days filled with soccer, Charlie, and your crazy all nighters (have you slept at all in four years?). Finally our Firstie year and luckily you came back home to 5-0. Brigade Commander, we always knew it was coming, and our same crazy antics. Now onto the Marine Corps for you, where we know as always you are going to exceed everyone's expectations. But we will always miss your made up songs. Love you, Quinn! –JH and all the other roomies

Well, it's hard to believe we're about to finally escape this place. From our Copenhagen days to now, we've gone through a lot. I'll never forget our exploits with LCDR Steve, the late night grills, you out of place in TN, water balloons, houseboats and beer, waxing philosophical, Gary the Great, Army-Navy 2002, MIDN PLT SGT Cortés, Route 2, roadside stops, 26.2 miles (what were we thinking?), the bitterness and loathing, being ready to get out of here…
Here's to the next step and more assured fun times at NPS. Watch out Charleston; here comes some Group 3 idiots. If things get rough, just remember these two things: 1.) Don't blame me; you went to your interview, and 2.) "I'll watch this line, you watch that one, and let me know when we hit the curb."

It has been an interesting four years. Late nights, elaborate pranks, wrestling, parties, weekend trips, the people, the teasing, the friends. Best Wishes to all. God Bless. "Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord and the power of His might. Put on the full armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood opponents but against the rulers, the authorities, the cosmic powers of this dark world, and the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms." (Ephesians 6:10-12) "Do not let this Book of the Law depart from your mouth; meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do everything written in it. Then you will be prosperous and successful. Have I not commanded you? Be strong and courageous. Do not be terrified; do not be discouraged, for the Lord you God will be with you wherever you go." Sean Matthew Dinces

Corona, CA
Surface Warfare

Sean, aka "The Dince" came to USNA as an impressionable young man, subscribing to the picture of the Academy painted in the many brochures that adorned his house. These impressions were quickly dashed as we came to live in the lovely 6th wing, Bancroft's last real treasure. Here, Sean began to hone the sword of cynicism he would expertly wield for the next 4 years, making him a perpetual source of comic relief to the humdrum existence of those creatures known as Midshipmen. Always ready to surf the waves, or critique the technical fallacies in Blue Crush. After four years at this institution, he can boast his biggest accomplishment was teaching the residents of 7th company his middle name is not "meat."

Like everyone else, I can't believe it's over. I sure am glad it is though. The days seemed to take forever, but they added up quickly. Like all else at USNA, it just doesn't make sense. Tom Petty said it best, "It's time to move on, time to get going/ What lies ahead, I have no way of knowing/ But under my feet, baby, grass is growing/ It's time to move on, it's time to get going." Luckily we have guys like him to say things better than we can. The only things I'll miss are the dear friends and many random nights in DTA. Best wishes to all, I hope you find what it is you are looking for.

From the Halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli we fight our country's battles in the air on land and sea. First to fight for right and freedom and to keep our honor clean; We are proud to bear the title of United States Marines. Our flag's unfurled to every breeze From dawn to setting sun; We have fought in every clime and place where we could take a gun. In the snow of far-off Northern lands and in sunny tropic scenes; You will find us always on the job --The United States Marines. Here's health to you and to our Corps which we are proud to serve; In many a strife we've fought for life and never lost our nerve. Sale Trice Lilly IV

Carrollton, TX

Sale is an odd but in a loveable way. Though an overachieving work-a-holic in the purest sense, he is a remarkable fellow who exerts great effort and dedication. Sadly, this lifestyle has prevented Sale from discovering all of the joys DTA had to offer. He possesses a tremendous knowledge of politics and economics, but only a select crowd appreciates that conversation in a bar. He is a great athlete, fine wrestler, and more recently a half-decent swimmer. Few people know the real Sale, since he rarely goes out. Those of us who have actually gotten to know the lad, kind of like him. A good friend and drinking buddy, even if it is only in small quantities. Now young Sale will travel to England where he will learn all that one could ever want to know about the economy and liaise with the local population. When he returns to the United States and the Navy he will be choosing the difference between the red and green wire with the EOD. Remember, once he turns 35, to Vote Sale Lilly for U. S. President, "My Vote's for Sale!"

So the heavens smiled, and there was Mike—who was also smiling. And that smile made its presence known all over the Annapolis stomping grounds and then some: shooting darts at Donlon's (and sometimes hitting the board), rocking out at the piano bars (Mike, six lovely ladies and a bucket of vodka), or over the bow of a sinking canoe on an icy lake. He served with distinction on every plane of battle: the unofficial graduate of the winter mini-BUD/S screener, engaging in mortal combat at midnight by the Lejeune Hall fountain (Mr. Lindsey, it's noon and you reek of alcohol—do we remember how we hurt our ankle?), and whooping up on some woop-arm in the 7th Company wardroom. Mike do detail? That's unpossible. And then there was the Yeti. However beyond the smile and the many outrageous, frequently drunken escapades that most will never see beyond, Mike, the late night roamer (All those who wander are not lost), will always be one of the greatest, most loyal friends. Honestly, out of over 4000 mids, I'm definitely the hottest. First off, let me list my intense physical attributes. I'm short, balding, and extremely pale. The top of my head curves into a dome-like aperture, and radiates sunlight very effectively. LOVER OF RAP MUSIC. These attributes are all sought-after, however, my greatest physical trait is the two extremely gigantic eyebrows. You may be wondering, "why are they so big." Well I'll tell you...I never get dirt or sand in my eyes. My brows are virtually indestructible and they are capable of repelling the majority of small to medium sized particles. NOONAN. They also create a unique shadowing affect, since it's the only place above the neck capable of hair-growth. They also have the capability of joining together, thereby doubling their strength. Girls love them... Guys want them...but only I got em!!!! I'm thankful that I attended the academy. MONTANA MAN. While here I was able to hone my singing, dancing, and acting skills which I'm sure will carry me far. BLACK DENIM JEANS. TIGHT! I know that a lot of people are jealous of my physical appearance, but that's not my fault. I've been given these gifts and I intend to use them.
I AM THE NEXT AMERICAN IDOL!!!! (Warning!!! subliminal messages included)

(H)ack: the grand old man of 7th Company. It couldn't be cooler to be anybody else: sometimes a cowboy, sometimes a pirate, sometimes a "skateboard punk rocker" (imagine that), but always a good friend. Well, (H)ack was never partial to "the man," and they had their occasional bout—some much bigger than others. I guess we both owe RADM Sammy J. one? Strange things are afoot at the Circle K. There's been way too many near-death experiences: Jeff Apple at Nations, subsequent visits to the sketchy place, the debacle in Rochester, the spin-out in the ford escort, and parking the Trail Blazer illegally on Hospital Point. There are things you give up for love, there are things you give up for taps, but make no exception around South Park time. Well it was a long and arduous trek for the gunslinger—who was always far more aerodynamic on a snowboard than in a statics class. You're a man obsessed with all things piratical and anti-establishment, we need more like you because you're not brainwashed. S.T., M.L., D.L.

What can we say about Jonathan? Not too much considering every time we looked for him he seemed to be on movement order. Seriously though, Jon always proved game for a good argument—he was truly a master debater…one of those people that could sell an ice machine to Eskimos. Out on the town, he was never without his most dependent debate partner, who goes by the name of Captain Morgan. We came to love that mess of clothes and rumpled paper around your desk, and watch in awe at your ability to crank out a ten-pager in the last minute (literally). Hi Bob. Bob was truly the jack of all trades, coming to USNA as a football player, but finishing his career as a pole-vaulter. A social butterfly of a man, with the phone constantly ringing off of the hook, one never needed to worry about answering the phone in the room, it was always one of the masses looking for Bob. One of the most dependable people in the company, and one never had to search far for him, if he was not at his desk, he was right above it. And while Bob's shoes are always immaculate, kiwi was not the only type of wax to grace the presence of our sink. From hanging out on the weekdays to jokin' after school, Bob always made the day more exciting. And let's not forget that Bob would say what everyone else was thinking, regardless of the setting, like "I think your tattoo's on crooked."

"I.. I just don't understand." The quintessential X-Box addict. Dave entered USNA with the highest ideals and impressions, many of which were destroyed over the following 4 years by Sean and the other miscreant cynics that lurk the halls. At USNA Dave has experienced a variety of 4 letter words not previously in his vocabulary and overcame the anxieties of online dating. We eagerly await for some young southern belle to pull him away from his game console, but until then we will watch Dave climb the heights of NCAA football fame. Dave was always a good friend, and an easy person to talk to, especially after he got subs and tried to talk to everyone, including his pen. "I got Stros." Always a man of hygiene, the only object to take more baths than him, was his car. Which brings us to the real love of his life, a man by the name of Bond, James Bond.

Seth Eric Tufvesson

Deep within Seth, a terrible battle wages on: schizophrenia. The evil demon spirit of Chesty Puller and a beatnik poet duel for possession of Seth's soul. Those of us who have met Seth know him as the highest and tightest, who occasionally slumps into a medium reg. We might mention his drunken pleas for air support against his roommates on a wire hanger, ricocheting the Cav off a few speeding cars while catching a few zzzs, or maybe something about an admiral's daughter, but no one works harder or does their job better. We might complain about his power naps at all times of the day, whether for two minutes or two hours. Always writing some book that he subsequently manages to delete, rocking out on his laptop, or to Chris' amazement waking up by the numbers. Who else would try to kill a roommate they love with an iron? Those of us who know Seth, can tell you how he always buys the first round, as long as it's Jack on the rocks, or how he brings you that unexpected bag of snacks when you're stuck in the hall over leave on restriction. We wouldn't trade him for all the Scandinavians of the icy northlands. We ruv you Seff. Remember what you're doing out there. We may have stopped you that night, but you've always been on the long walk to Quantico. M.L., J.S., D.L.

The writers of this profile have never met a girl not in love with Joey.....ever, though many have not realized it in time . To think that the culmination of his Academy experience would end with actual enthusiasm for a Surface Ship. When not placing hits on people's families in order to get them back for looking at him the wrong way or borrowing his sprinkler he enjoys arguing, talking, and arguing. The areas biggest proponent of Hatteras and all things kiting lead Navy Water Polo in goals, split-open lips, optical anesthesia injections and trash talking. The years have yielded marriage accusations, "heart to hearts", laughter, tears, and classic arguments about anything and everything. All-American athlete, friend, and teammate.. the best stories are yet to come. Favorite Donahue catch phrases: "Say you like me hat", "I'm Joey", "I agree with myself", "I'm not playing next year", "Suriano, you have no idea what your talking about", "C'mon it's The Boss", "I'm not even gonna apply here", "Hey Daddio, Where's Madre?", "Snelgrove you're wrong", "She's not very motherly", "I hate that man", "She left me for Barry", "I hate you guys", "Tim, you're never drinking at my house again", "WHAT!?!?".... a few scattered memories.....Sly Fox. The 6'4" man of thunder truly stands head and shoulders above his peers. He began his odyssey through the hollowed halls of Bancroft a timid young buck with dreams of swimming for the US Olympic team. He departs, four years later, with little else on his mind other than "dancing" with girls and avoiding running the USS Boxer aground. How will I remember Terrence you ask... ..the severe case of ADHD, the "Big Bird", his affinity for blowing it with potential suitors, the lonely whiskers that grow on his chin, his disdain for the unknown, his fancy for the simple pleasures of the Jersey shore? No, I will remember Terrence as the kind of man who loves his family and his friends more than himself. From his two goofball uncles to Chris "Bilbo Baggins" Speicher, Terrence displays the kind of steadfast loyalty that is hard to find in this day and age. After four years of inseperability I question what you will do without my keen fashion sense or my ability to turn the President of SADD into a beer pong champion. The truth of the matter is that you will succeed in whatever endeavors you undertake in life. Your zest for living will guide you to a happy home with a beautiful wife and loving children. I will miss you old friend, and always remember there is a guy 300 feet beneath the Pacific who loves you like a brother.RAO

In a room full of pessimists, he succeeded in upholding his unconditional love for the Academy and all things aviation. Charming, jovial, and a little bit wild, Jeff has been widely accepted as one of the friendliest and most fun loving guys in the class. Ever the ladies man and always with a beautiful girl, Jeff somehow even managed to find a couple cute dates inside the confines of the military service. When his homework or teaching blind kids to read didn't get in the way, Jeff never passed up the opportunity for a good time. Famous for his long dry spells, but more than that, breaking them in an astonishingly tremendous manner. Although almost notorious for his gruff mannerisms and straight-forward, "in your face" attitude, he has never stopped making his friends laugh at any poor chump that try cross him. Always the voice of reason in a room of pseudo-eccentrics, Ryan has a knack for remaining cool and collected no matter what the occasion. If you were stuck behind enemy lines with a can of sardines and a plastic spork, I still believe you'd make it it back, leaving a trail of destruction in your wake. - "No Scott, he wasn't trying to start a fight with you..just keep walking" - Soccer, graduation parties, rams head. - James, I mean Scott, who are you anyway? The most feared fieldball player of our time, not for his skill but for his fights. Don't think you can hide his liquor, he'll find it if it takes all night. - In his time at the academy, Badness has been the most competitive, the most hilarious, the most energetic, the most distinctly Texan, and the best friend I've had. - everything is bigger in Texas, the best roommate a guy could ever hope to have - Maybe he'll figure out his service assignment when he makes O-4 - My shoulder! At least we both got A's, and one of us learned the warrior ethos. I still say the North is better, and I always will, no matter how big your belt buckle is.

Mark, "don't even think about looking at my sister," Wernig is definitely a "yes" man in any situation. A true product of the Jesuit school system Mark religiously sticks to Catholic girls, successfully completing the once inconceivable trifecta of Holy Cross, Boston College, and St. Mary's. What happened in four years to turn one of the Corps' most promising prospects into a die hard SWO? Could it be his affection for those girls in SDBs? Or might it be the intoxicating draw of Tijuana and the beautiful blondes of southern California? In our opinion it must be the circulating rumors of young officers' standard 12 o'clock tee time at the countless courses of sunny San Diego. Not technically a Navy legacy, no one has more regard for the traditions and history of the Academy than Mark, especially the brutality and humiliation doled out by 2/C detailers. (We had some great times there didn't we?) Always quick with a smile or a great story (only made greater by his wild imagination and penchant for all things grand), Mark is truly a class act. One of Ohio's finest; Mark will make us all proud and hopefully make us all millions at the same time. Best of luck on the high seas!

Ali Babba, even though I didn't like you at first, I couldn't have asked for a better friend to keep me straight for four years. Our addiction to Starbucks led us to drinking frappuccinos in sub-zero temperatures wearing garbage bags in Times Square, you drained threes against Army, were a lime-green blob on the slopes at Jackson Hole, and exhibited bravery in the face of a mysterious thrashing creature in the lagoon of a Florida Key. I will always appreciate the encouragement, support, and love from both my childhood friends back in TEXAS and my life long friends here at the Academy. I could not be in this position if it wasn't for you all. Mom, Dad, and Amber, thank you for your unconditional love and support throughout these challenging years. To my friends back home, I thank you all for the phone calls, IM's, and the SPRING BREAK trips. To Kris and Anthony, we will always have skiing in New Mexico. Thank you all who took the time to study with me and kept me fighting as Systems had me in that head lock. To Micah and Mac, sorry for keeping my desk lamp on late for those three years, I know you both hated my long nights. To Trevor, Raj, and Adam "Danger" Powers, you guys will always be brothers to me, but why the Marine Corps? No, just kidding, I couldn't be prouder of you guys. Semper Fidelis!!!. "but Pete takes it   ... I'll take a Coke with that." Never at a loss for the most inappropriate words. I hear that you can't have a car until 2/c year... oh, that's only if you put Navy stickers on it. Tiffany's and a check with 5 figures, what were you thinking? Oh, wait; I did the same thing 3 weeks later. Firstie year spent reading books and trying to save a very wet formula car. Second choice... maybe... more like fate has a way of keeping friends together. KMK. Ah, the things we have been through to make it to graduation. Everything from fusion powered pipe organs to girls with hoop earrings, we have been through a lot. But together, I must say, we make one amazing engineer, and now that you have made the wise choice and come to fly with us, things can only get better. Here's to the future. DTB

SUBS to FO ..A red headed sub guy, a prior marine, and a high school girl at NAPS. The combination was perfect and the three amigos we became. After a wedding, philly cheese steaks, can I borrow your car? and a last ride to the coast and that pirate place, we graduated. Then it became who's turn it was to visit, another interesting wedding, the two gimps, engagements, and a better graduation. Five years of memories, fun, and laughter, I thank you—Shaina A prior submariner (no such thing, they are all darn good mariners), now coming to fly with those of us that are smart. Known this kid for 4 years now, and Grandpa lives up to his moniker. Whether it's the frequency of volume of his voice, or his mannerisms, he fits his nickname well. But even with all of the joking and kidding aside, which is all in good fun anyways, he is an amazing individual and an awesome friend. Couldn't ask for too much more, other than for him to quit yelling at me… -D

Whether it is drinks or his lovin, after downing a long island, he'll bestow them both freely on anybody. Cheers, grannies basement, Ledo's, and the youngster mall. Who could forget the jeep adventures? Rollin 6 deep in a 4 man jeep. a 750, a couple cokes, and a state that didn't outlaw open containers…. Priceless. He used to be full time DD, whatever happened to that? Getting lost in DC, Baltimore, Annapolis? Adam always was the ladies man, he pulled girls like africana, emaculata, midn-x, midn-y, coke fiend, and midn-homewrecker (actual names have been altered to protect the innocent) not to mention his harem back home. He did so well that occasionally he'd have some extra girls for those of us who weren't as skilled in the hunt…. occasionally I wouldn't blow it. I couldn't conclude Adams Bio without mentioning his coital mishaps (see dictionary), like the hitting, the vomiting, the man-show game, and that very disturbing night of "never have I ever". Adam always has and always will be a good friend, and I love him like a brother. THE GODFATHER-kwk

Wow, what can I say, we've lived together for three years. We have made it through everything from Jamaica, losing one of our brothers to the man, all the way to service selection. Most of the things we've done I think are illegal in most countries and would probably be frowned upon, but weren't they fun? Now it's on to the future, but not without something to remember: May we be in heaven an hour before the devil finds out we're dead.

McDermott, stahnd bah for E-AH! Dude, no one ever told me that... I mean, you'd think that they'd have figured that out... Dude, where's my stupid... Well, Mike, every single one of your roommates has stood at least 60 days; so you got that going for you. "Go figure." We're waiting for that Lit. Crit. book, and that workout book entitled "Bigger Than Gill's." I mean, if they haven't made a movie out of it, it isn't worth reading—and even then it still isn't worth reading 'cause you could just watch the movie. They weren't playing waterpolo tonight, so I just played Warcraft. Although many others also bore the nickname "the yellow dart," you still were the only yellow dart to pierce our hearts (awwwwwww). Nice Dominican suntan, by the way. Gimme back my picture. Keep doing your real job; go ahead, buddy, you earned it! Git out!

Plebe year he liked to go by the name Fox, as part of the Ox trio – that was a cool costume. Getting caught with cool music like The Cars, Journey, and REO Speedwagon and the infamous calendar. Cancun, and Seamus emerged. Beginning second class year it was all over for Pat – Seamus was the new lawdog. The life of the party -- At least when he didn't pre-game, and wake up the next morning ready to party with Kurt the night before. "there's a loser born everyday," "Why didn't you just get a butt tattooed on your arm?" "Mexico-up, Mexico-down," "Why's that cat throwing chips at me?!" and the ever popular explicative filled downtown-death threat, Seamus quickly emerged as the symbol of putting a good time over common sense. "It's Okay, I'm a doctor!" Chrissy never did call back did she? Is "cablastered" really a word? Academically: nearly all A's every semester. Physically, always the perfect PRT (except firstie year, when all beer and no running made him 3 seconds slower). socially: well, we all know Seamus. SCS,

Big Tony. A product of the 80's he never forgot his roots. hair band rock through the early morning, "classic" Van Damme movies,Youngster year we saw him down a whole container of maple syrup in minutes and then saw the agony of sugar overkill for 24 hours. He had a typical Half Nelson the next day. As much a poet as a warrior. Big Tony, when asked what he wanted to order at the local waffle house responded, "Where are we? Waffle House? I just want a waffle dude." He has a tendency to lose his keys so it might be a good idea if you drive. Make sure you don't make fun of him when he's not in the rack. Tough times build character, and with a Black N and teardrops to prove it, Dan must be destined for greatness. He fought the law and the law won. Selecting submarines after graduation, Big Tony is headed for Charleston. When not studying you may catch him at the local Karaoke bar doing his classic rendition of "Wanted Dead or Alive", so watch out ladies. Saturday college gameday at Bev's. Go Blue. Sure, as long as they beat ND. Recons and duct tape. "Those guys were SEALs." Verbal bouts with the YP Commodore. . . he should never have apologized. Was there ever a She-Petkus? Then Cancun unleashed the devil dog inside him. Partied like a rock star, but never ever got sick... Ring Dance: the night we didn't get away with it, but managed to make it an awesome weekend out of it anyway. Rigorous Marine Corps Marathon training regimen in DTA. . . "where are we staying tonight?" Trips to Duke, the anything for money party and JMU and tough guys at Skidmore proved a good time. He was often seen in the halls wearing a nerdy chem club t-shirt and hollering out "hey hey hey" to whom ever was in the general vicinity. Joe's a big doors fan, because they gave him his motto, "Well I woke up this morning and I got myself a beer." Well one thing is certain, he is a D-ville local that likes his Ravens and his Zeppelin, but he loves the ladies. G-Unit! The self-proclaimed beer pong champion (well he was my partner), he quickly learned the art of trash talking after the college tour of 2002-2003. I will work you dawg! Sam, you are one of the few, the proud to complete the Academy's two year program thanks to a strong affinity for the rack. A highly motivated narcoleptic, he fought a daily battle between his insatiable lusts for food and sleep. He is known for his marathon drinking benders and partying like a rock star, as demonstrated on his 21st birthday when he stayed out till 7:30 and we had to put him to bed. Boy, that shower was a mess. Despite all his virtues, episodes like the POD and Mexi-ho remind us that he's only a flesh and blood man. An idealist and a responsible midshipman. . . but I wouldn't trust him with the room hamster. Three years of astro boycotts and alcohol related faux pas' (see Cancun, DTA, Gettysburg, etc). From leader of the next rebel uprising to roommate of a black man, we saw all range of emotions and facial coloring. How has Scott not been lynched yet? We had trouble understanding you at first as you spewed forth such phrases as "Ah tell yoo ut..., Ahm fixin to..., and Ah've got a hankerin fer..." And let's not forget those "barking spiders." You inspired us all as AdjuTANT while making sure we all remembered that the plebes are now and always have been weak. "Don't you want some responsibility as a Firstie?" Jimmy:(Pauses...thinks...ponders...smiles...replies) "No. Not really." Of course, that stunt did reward him with quite the opposite position, but that did not dishearten him from trying for the high bar of platoon commander in the spring, with the campaign line "I'm not looking for responsibility here, as much as I just want to carry a sword." Pivot and step, pivot and step... Grandma is already in the rack... the South will rise again! Give it up for the white boy shuffle, countless naps after school, media chits while on 4/c privileges, and the smelliest two feet the good Lord ever bestowed upon the earth. Were you dressed by Ray Charles? Bob the man with no internal monologue. Cruisin' in the mid-stang, the water balloon enforced no-fly zone, playing video games with the Mexican mafia, clothes flying out the windows, incomprehensible southern babble, and a whole bunch of other stuff we dare not mention... The man who could but mostly didn't, may we never see Bob in a professional setting. Sumter, South Carolina: Population 17 (Cush can attest to that)... you were the ultimate culture shock to modern America. Here's a toast to indoor plumbing, non-striped shirts, female stripers, and just plain drama... on second thought there ain't a chance in hell the South will ever rise again. -Poon, Busta, Cush

Who is the Poon? The laziest smart guy you ever met. Fifteen double shot cans arranged in perfect formation signifying the completion of a semester's worth of work ... in one night. The only man we ever knew who could simultaneously rip, burn, and watch a movie. Here's to the 243,000 years and millions of dollars you owe in copyright violations, may our favorite blockbuster always remain one step ahead of the man. A toast to the "Knight of Nastiness" and "Mr. Pillsbury"; may they never resurface in our minds. Have fun in the next golf war with your P-3. The swing is as deadly as the tan. The Roots, number three, collisions with postal employees, "don't mess wit da chi", the putt-putt challenge, spontaneous light switch raves, endless Family Guy and South Park, number one on Ward Hall's Most Wanted List, and the guy who could fix anything. You were as much a culture shock to White America as it was to you... - Cush, Bob, Busta. "MIA J.G."

It's just body hardening. We just ate; it's SOUTH PARK time. Watch out! I just had laser eye surgery. I'm gettin' BIG ON YOU PLAYA! LEFT RIGHT LEFT RIGHT LEFT RIGHT LEFT, GET ON UP!!! Get a brace – 1, 2, 3, 4, ahhhhhhh... MJ - worst roommate ever. Just go to the bat cave, but better ask KR, though. It goes without saying that she's been the defining part of your life here. Good luck with it. G-UNIT!!! Reading magazines about wolves and log cabins. Deer, turkey, and geese hunting. Could try flying the errplane, but we'll prolly crash it. G-UNIT!!! Where are those ants coming from? Prolly the Coastie! Who goes to bed at 10? It's truly been an experience living with you. Never met someone who has such a hatred of tuna. You know, an adult costume is only ten extra bones. What's that in your pants? All that work in AERO just to go SUBS, the quiet service. You'll be all right though; it's just five more years of your life. Can't play your rap music too loud, though. Time to watch OCC. It's a romantic comedy, baby. SPMBN… WORD IS BOND!!!

Jared Allen. Promoted to the prestigious rank of Kernel sometime Youngster year, Jared's administrative skills saved us time and again, even if his people skills or utter lack thereof, achieved the opposite effect. If you ever asked him, you'd learn that California may be the best place on earth. In his mind Jared was constantly in California for four straight years, evident by his constant wearing of shorts, with long johns underneath in the winter. Oblivious to the cold, Jared was rocking out constantly. The Nav's worship band was the closest thing Jared ever had to a rock band, though he always played a wicked air guitar. Between the air guitar and pining for California, Jared also managed to occasionally keep Unit 3 on track using words like "expositional" and "inductive." The Kernel's focus helped us get to the DR twice and his rudimentary skills in español helped us survive the trip. Of course, he didn't think the trip up, that was…(See Gill)

Where to begin with young Brandon? This man, a man known by many names, many faces, whether they be metallic, swollen or just plain angry. Known to the English speaking world as Duce, Colvinator, Coolvin and many others that can't be mentioned, he always has a knack for communicating in some unknown language, perhaps ones and zeros or just plain murmurs. We have watched Il Duce grow from a mere padawan, breaking holes in ceiling tiles into a full fledged Jedi and being caught playing with his light saber or randomly brandishing his mighty jedi weapon after a night of engaging the dark forces in downtown Annapolis. He is a true warrior in every sense of the word, hardened by blowing his horn on historic Worden Field to violently stabbing his saber into a struggling enemy in a fencing match. One cannot claim Brandon as a man who likes to go slow. A blink of the eye and one can miss the metallic glimmer of his smile as his X-Wing Stealth car darts by. Quick and aggressive, Brandon comes quickly when the situation is hot. Always ready to lend a helping hand, he never hesitates to drive from the backseat, even right after oral surgery. A man of communication, he always seems to be able to catch you at the right moment, whether thoroughly engaged in reading or studying, Brandon jumps at the chance to help his shipmates with a study break. Often touted as "rude", Brandon is widely misunderstood. His love for people, kittens and ewoks, glimmer in his everyday interactions with people. God bless Texas and usethebomb!

No discussion of disappointment would be complete without mention of Dave Kim's career as a football fan. Yes, almost as pathetic as Donovan McNabb's arm is Dave's insistence that the Eagles are a legitimate force. His time at the Naval Academy has been marked by three NFC Championship losses, as well as the sight of Danny Austin's nekkid booty sweating in the hot Jamaica sun. Which is more painful? Good question. He is a great friend with a lot to offer, especially if you are into low-budget motels in Delaware and communicable pinworm parasites. Gas Attack, "I am really worried about service selection…" Always a help with HW, someday he'll get a B. Stretches a dollar further than anyone. Founder of the Kim E-Bay empire. Sold his soul for stripes. Saved his friends by fixing their window before Isabel. Member of the Dirty Jersey Clan. Bring your puppy over for dinner. Jamaica 2003: talks with rock stars and, "Eric! Robert Pinckney—four years by the bay, where has the time gone? His performance here has proven that progress does not come without struggle. Growing up in Charleston, SC, young Robert embodies Southern hospitality and has always remained friendly, proof shown as he is on a first name basis with two Superintendents. A consummate Political Scientist, Robert loves to develop "foreign relations" with young ladies on the D.C./ Maryland international scene. Over the years, Robert has tirelessly labored to educate his suburbanite shipmates in the culture of "The Dirty." Matt Robins, perhaps you know him, maybe you don't, but maybe you recognize his pimp stroll as he makes his way through the halls of Bancroft. Matt cares about us all, that's why he does not bother you when he "borrows" your things. But he never neglects himself. His video and personal purchases indicate that. Keep your eye on the ladies when visiting Scuba Scott. After his appointment he might give her a tour of the house. Yet with all his escapades, Matt has an uncanny ability to recall minute details about ships and the Navy uncommon to your average shipmate; he showed class pride all over his "General Sherman"; and was there when the situation called for a drink or just a joke. Matt, it's been fun, it's been real and at times it's been real fun. Rock out in the Fleet. RRP, ABK, CAS, DAH

It was only a matter of time before her charms would snag old TW. Like a good sister would she would always have your back, while always proving that short people have tolerances corresponding to their height. Only two drinks…you're a SWO, you gotta build that up, don't you know. Well, maybe you will be a future weather girl, but we can forecast your future success. Otherwise all your brothers will get you back in line.

Yes everybody that is not a typo, it does say Marine Corps Ground under Chris' name. His time here has epitomized the phrase work smarter, not harder through his incorporation of common sense and cynicism. No one better at working at the last minute, especially when you only have one minute. Knew the plain truth of no use leaving for tomorrow what you can put off forever. When Irish eyes aren't smiling, he's usually complaining about something wrong in this world. Such as the NCAA's position on anorexia. "Hey, there's something fishy about those peer rankings?!?"(LT L) Through it all, Chris has always been a simple man -- all he needs is a light, bottle of Jameson, surfboard, and fishing pole. Someone may need to tell him there is no USMC station in Margaritaville. While spending quality time with his beloved Bern on the weekend, he found time to hang out at Davis' Pub where everybody knew his name and credit card number. HEIL KOMANDANT! Has there ever been a MIDN more proud to be from the violent crime capital of the world? Probably not, but that's the Zack we all know and love (at least Gaby does). From being the best man to wake people up in the morning ('Good Morning Dan'), to one of the original members of the '04th Reich (Bogs, Hogs, and Ogs), to getting potatoes in the mail from Momma B. After going down with his "tragic" shoulder injury (following an 11 ground ball inning), Bogus turned to giving nicknames to all of his ex's (e.g. Dog Lady, Ice Queen, Dr. Freak-n-Speak), and as his year long squadmate might have said, "which girl is it now?" Dropping wads of cash for a hockey game was always fun (Thanks Karin), eh? Smokey and the Bandit changed to Smokey and The Duke (cho wang?), and driving to NYC for one night never was more fun, nor was giving Smokes hell about something that "never happened". "Don't mess with Poland, Travis." "YOU got 3 stripes…and get to yell at kids all summer? How'd that happen?" Nobody's ever been happier to get an S-10, then drive it like a damn big-rig. "Four years went by pretty quick, huh?" "Well, when you don't do it right, it doesn't take as long."

The Little Greek Mid from Arizona: Zack kicked him in the head every morning during Plebe Summer. It wasn't, "Gonzales, or Rodriguez, or Arroz con Pollo!!!" Good thing Super G. had a sense of humor. Plebe year he and Nate joined the Jolly Rogers, and they've been causing trouble together ever since. First black-shirts at Nova, Psycho's Ships of the Desert, and then YPs . a 10 foot fence, razor wire, summer whites, and Nate saying, "Dude, hold my cover." Even morning practices with Zart weren't as bad as hearing the Dep Dant say, "You got how many majors? In one night!?" Oh well, the Form2 makes a good conversation piece. 21st birthdays . 'nuf said. Remember Youngster Spring Break, or would you rather not? Driving the Z from Arizona to Annapolis, what were you thinking? Plebe Summer cake punting . a future Olympic sport perhaps? 2/C year Agent Smith moved in, Army Week became synonymous with grand-theft-auto, and the Rogers won EVERYTHING. "Skiing in Austria? I might freeze to death!!" Quantico, rain, mud, and Regimental TOWs .Team Green's callin'! The Huston Bowl adventure . . . the Caroller-skate flipped . and Karin got a ring. Affectionately called 'Wild Bill' by his friends, at least in the beginning. Senior Chief, Billiam, Humphrey Bogart, Bogarty, Bogina, Titi, Fogartit, and Titphor - yes he owned them all. Professionalism at its very best, but only sometimes. He possessed the biggest 'fat boy' nipples I ever saw, but was also the skinniest kid I ever knew. He could always make us laugh - MP5 and Mez; pillows and crusted socks; radio interview and making hailey puke; dumping tess and livin with toe gan; rotting feet and his flashlight; he is a man of honor. His Vernacular includes existence, soul, and skull. This lanky moose came to us from "Denver, Colly-ado, sir!" We soon found out after that great introduction that he was indeed "wrong as a football bat" and had a 4 year agenda which included: hurdling Vergara while chopping, following Forgarty's 5 step program to victory (see his cell phone message), worshipping the wisdom of Fogarty (ABCs), and delaying his apology to Momma B. Travis apparently is a SWO at heart, applying his "every Sailor a fireman" tactics to his printer, which caught fire and ended up as a window prop. And of course, no other MIDN in history has said the words "I love you Pookie" (PookiePooh) more. Where's the suntan lotion? Twelve inch Hogie! He's also gonna be a rich man after graduation, seeing as he's still with Danielle, and some people bet him he wouldn't. Lastly, "Bullwinkle" himself can be seen in the future scooting around on the deck of Nuke school yelling out "EL CAMIIIIINOO" at random times. "Four years went by pretty quick, huh?" Chuckles...where do I start? The most "innocent" of the roommates, you always provided entertainment. First it was the pseudo-roommate, then the realization that 21 just wasn't coming any time soon. I think it all began with the TRAFs plebe year--it was downhill from there "Honolulu Hawaii?", Garcia's hatch, LITH, VA Beach with D and C, Gloucester – Crawford road, "Have a great idea!" Champagne serenade, Vicky on the roof. I know we all "gave you sh--," but you generally gave it right back. There was Boston's Italian Festival – and you always were jealous I saw Natalie Portman. Course, I made up for it in NTT – gas was my demise. Hit it up hard with fieldball and Vlachakis, "Launchpad McCumber" You swimming in my living room and Carl's roving hands. Don't forget the whacking stick, 'The Chain' dance for my momma, the ticket and Foard Esquire, Ring Dance & Julie Julie Guerre Chaley!!! The Duchess of Balthazar and our new roommate Ryan (read ADD), spear tossing, hair shaving, NAVY NAVY NAVY NAVY! Ninja break-dancing – and the blood on your face, PRT workouts just wouldn't have been the same without you, even though you always ran faster than me...and beat me in racquetball...and in Pawket Tanks. We did team up, however, to make the tropical zone superior to the arctic--despite Ryan's thermostat sabotage attempts. And don't forget all the crazy times at Mr. Menne's. But damnit, you're still not 21. – marshall and carlos

Plebe summer to firstie year, flew by and the time has come to move on… say "Exxxccellent" Mr. Burns, 4 months of payback for one stray iron, hard drive adventures, and spring break on the beaches of HI with the greatest guys ever. 3/c year- where did Brandon go? Rooming with the 2/c and starting down the dark path to 2 majors. Norfolk, Greece and Amsterdam and I was definitely going for subs. Neo and Agent Smith start rooming together, who would have guessed? The ski trip with Jeff and Jon, hot tubs, snow and hey who finished off that bottle. Finally made it to the homestretch and hey, we got a Commodore on deck. To the clubbers: the four years have been a blast, absolutely incredible adventures from coast to coast, preachers selling glass bricks, Bush Sr. and south padre, insert cool Europe memory here, and foliage. I know somebody, who's always being a whiney. And his name is Jonny! Mr. Whiner, I remember asking you to room with me at the end of plebe summer. You seemed the quiet, introspective type, even if you did worry about "getting your fingers dirty." 4 years and countless adventures later – from six-legged roommates to the invasion of the 6-wheel drive legos – we've discovered the "crazy vein" in both of us, and you are as close to a brother as I will ever have. Things we'll always have in common... great culinary experiences (remember, if the place looks too nice on the inside, they probably don't spend enough on their food!), group 3 all the way!, Georgetown nights – walking into random parties, cross country treks for Jamba Juice (Mango-A-Go-Go, fruit of the Holy Land), the extra-dimensional portal in the back of your closet ("Ahg! You pushed it back into the rat world! Ok... if there are any rats, or bugs, or insects in here... anything that has more legs than I do, you just stay on your side of the closet and I'll stay on mine"), a love of dogs ("Hey, when I look at my dog, Plato, I look at his legs and I think, "two weeks of meet – each one." And he looks back at me, like he knows I want to eat him." RIP, Mr. Plato.) Jon, four years on Severn's shores, and you've changed people in ways you'll never know. Always working people behind the scenes, never asking for any credit – the invisible hero. Always remember: Two are better than one, because they have a good return for their work: If one falls down, his friend can help him up. But pity the man who falls and has no

Mr. Whiner but mostly Mr. Baby~the best roommate a person could ask for…been together for over three years. I don't know what I am going to do or where I will find myself without you…many wonderful memories: plebe year, youngster, second class, our last year here, endless nights into DC's surreal nightlife, Georgetown's row of M st, girls…girls…girls…and great food all the time, while I remember the summer and spring vacations of La and Fl, teaching and educating me how to drink, late nights talking, crazy and wild times that I would not change for anyone. It will surely be missed. Even though you will be in Charleston, I will miss our close bond and remain friends forever. Mr. Baby has established himself as a fine member of Annapolis…his collateral duties include: sleeping, whining, drilling, motivating, receiving exotic food from parents, and having the amazing talent of acing all his work. Four years by the bay over already. Cheers~ here is to countless beers, women, and our future in the fleet. Through good times and bad I remember you as one of the few people I could truly trust. Roommate! Where do I begin. I will just start with the list. Kate (wanted me). Lori (wanted you 1 year later). Hallie. Jen. Then the ones in the middle that I only know by the places in which you met them. Argentina. New York. Chicago. We won't finish. It is better if I just start at the beginning. When Stew and I picked roommates it was quite a process. We were shining shoes next to each other, and the roommate list was passed around, and you were the only one left. Don't you feel special? It was a perfect match from the beginning. I did my work. You tried to do your work faster than me. Stew just sat around in a bad mood. But we do have some memories to show from it. Soy Sauce Wars (I always wondered why my darn printer never worked … "Open the window Stew, I'm gonna jump" "Its open"… flag football on the frozen tundra of Farragut Field … long walks in the night around Dewey (watch out for your squad leader) … we always knew who to invite to play poker … thanks for the ride to the concert … some people worked out every day after school … you played X-box every day after school … couldn't ever just go to bed, had to have a phone, or a game, or music … I know I am forgetting things, but it has been a great ride together. The "Man of Mystery," for many reasons, whether it be for his so-called "soul" or his scandalous behavior behind closed doors. A self professed womanizer before the academy, and we all know what that means. Some womanizers spend their money on improving their image, others spend it all on a pearl white Lincoln. Pearl White??? His Lincoln and soul-train rhythm earned him some "women of color." So he says!!! Anyhow as my subordinate and roommate, I ensured that he was obedient, well behaved, and prepared to meet the submarine fleet again. Good Luck! JGC

Jeff Gregory "Hardcore" Cliffe a.k.a. The Grand Old Man. From his first day as a midshipman, Jeff has always been the type of man to inspect the situation or detailer (LF) from head to toe. People have looked up to Jeff...not in a big-brother sense, but rather in a "Hey, this guy is really old and seasoned" sense. Normally found in his natural habitat known as McGarvey's, his exploits in downtown Annapolis are a thing of legend. Who can forget the Headboard and Snow Wrestling...God knows we won't let him. He is a man with an insatiable hunger for JJ videos and Georgia Peaches. Whether inspiring the company with his Marine Corps strut at drill or leading his comrades to the Fleet Reserve, Sarge is as comfortable raising the bar as he is raising a glass beside one. His affinity for Matt's high quality entertainment has shown him to be a lover of many things (animals too). In the air or on land, Jeff will make the Marine Corps proud because the chicks dig him. That's right! This here is Russell Eugene of the Garrison clan who hails from the great state of NC. Although having strong ties to his home state, Eugene has a strong affinity for the almost as great state of NJ. He aquired the taste at UVA, one of the few times he made it out of 7th circle of hell otherwise known as 7352. When not studying for heat transfer, Blues's control systems, or writing papers 5 days overdue, Eugene enjoys not being clothed, Led Zeppelin, the audition, a good Brazilian friendship and Matt's CDs. This Iron Mid has a knack for impeccable grammar, never once using "myself" incorrectly or allowing others to do so. Playing off this desire for perfection, he also kept his roomates on their toes by setting his alarm clock for random times durng the night. These four years spent with Eugene would not have been the same without his quirks, incessant movie quotations, that evening with the goddess of the night, and that sweet, sweet southern accent. we wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors and we want to leave you out readers with some advice from AC/DC: "so lock up your daughter, lock up your wife, and lock up your back door and run for your life." Godspeed and to the hilt - JAK and myself, DM

From the Halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli we fight our country's battles in the air on land and sea.
First to fight for right and freedom and to keep our honor clean;
We are proud to bear the title of United States Marines. Our flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun;
We have fought in every clime and place where we could take a gun. In the snow of far-off Northern lands and in sunny tropic scenes; You will find us always on the job --The United States Marines. Here's health to you and to our Corps which we are proud to serve; In many a strife we've fought for life and never lost our nerve. If the Army and the Navy ever look on Heaven's scenes, they will find the streets are guarded by United States Marines.

My parents say that the past five years went by so fast, but I have to disagree. After being at NAPS, the transition to Annapolis was fairly smooth. I was ready for tough classes, lots of physical training, and mental challenges. My first day was the best day ever...it was my birthday, June 30th 2000. Of course I kept that to myself to avoid the extra "attention." My days were extremely long, especially after my three-hour rifle practices. My toughest challenge was memorizing lots of useless information like daily menus. Some things were just strange, like bulkheads, p-ways, and scuttle butts. Learning time management was the key to getting through this year. Overall it was pretty rough, and I was glad when it was over after climbing Herndon. My youngster year was my year to recover. All eyes were off me finally, and I proved myself worthy of entering the realm of the upperclassmen. My hardships this year were in boxing and wrestling class. My partner was 30 pounds heavier than me, and I often left class dizzy or with sore muscles. But I managed to make it through. For the record, this was my most enjoyable year. Second Class year, academics became a challenge after I went deeper into my major, Systems Engineering. Some days I questioned myself why I chose it as my major, and I spent countless hours trying to understand the work. I managed to get through it with the help of my teachers and friends. I had the privilege of yelling at, I mean, training the plebes that year and had lots of good times. Firstie year went by fast and before I knew it, I was a new Naval Officer

Coming to us from the capital of the Confederacy, Jason "A-H" Kozak cannot decide whether his southern origins preside over his Germanic roots. He came to USNA already conservative and with one small virtue to learn - tact. Jason lost is A-game crossing the street in Montreal. Thus was born the J-game. He likes to bring this wherever he goes, especially when there are girls around. Jason has a high opinion of women, ask him about his restriction. He is also the commander of the Battle Group-V and almost the world's greatest Navy NFO. Jason taught us many things, like how long it takes to get a speeding ticket in a new camaro SS (about 39.5 hrs), that if you steal a car and the police get you just lay down and say, "I'm a friendly!" and that morale ALWAYS improves when the beatings continue. The Marine Corps now owns him and hopefully he will use everything he has learned here to lead Marine squadrons to glorious battle. Good luck, buddy. Hoorah! - DM, PH, & KY

Domenico Monaco

Naples, Italy
Navy Pilot

Hailing from Naples, Italy (home of Neapolitan ice cream), Domenico came to the USNA with the hopes that he could make some friends that wouldn't judge him by his diminutive stature or copious amounts of body hair. Alas, this was not to be. Not to dwell on the negatives of small stature but a wise man (Allan), once said women love small men for two reasons: Reason F and Reason S. He soon fell in with Jack's crew and, although not a founding member, was soon promoted to Commander of Jack's Midget Brigade. Despite this dubious honor, he missed out on the first Montreal trip. Not one to be left out, Domenico rallied and was a pivotal member of Montreal, part DEUX! Whether he was hitting on Pebbles or searching for his wallet you could always count on Dom to spew forth a continuous fount of wisdom. Some of his greatest hits include: "I'm full of sugar!" "As soon as this is dry I'll be sober. . .(30seconds later). . .That's good!" "Domenico, I hate me so GD much, it's unbelievable!" "She's pretty cute." In closing I'd like to ask you one thing Dom – "Do you think you can work with that?" KY, PH & JKYou know what they say about guys with big hearts … they are true friends!! JC&SW

Quite Majestic on the desks of 6-4. A 5-man that should have only held 3. How many write-offs tonight? Too many early mornings to count. Your unwavering passion to take to the skies expressed in hours of studying. And studying. And studying. But, it all paid off- who wears the Stars after getting one every single semester? Isn't that the God's List – a 4.0 in everything? All things possible through Christ. Guitar playin', gospel sayin' aeronautical scientist kicking it old school with the "God Squad". Pilot. Friend. Brother. And what's this about the daVinci Code and that Origin of Species? Always. JAB Ah, Mr. Beaton, always sucking up for that one extra point over Jason… jerk. The aero glory days… super. Late nights, sleepovers, Karpo, Saarlas, hahahaha, we showed them all. Guitar playing. Thanks a bunch. Jon and his harem of 20 plus women. Sorry Jay I can't hang out this weekend, I'm "hanging out" with (insert female name). You the man. Love ya buddy. Show 'em how it's done at Pensacola.

He hails from Seattle, the land of liberals and rain (don't worry, he got his waiver). Among the original Jack's crew and founding member of NASA, Patrick has managed to break every rule at the party house, even before most were created. He has vanquished all of his greatest enemies, most notably a handicap sign, the letter F and the number 150. He has been a diplomat as well, spreading goodwill and love from Montreal (twice) to Japan. We will always remember you for the timeless knowledge that has escaped your lips:
"It's cool guys, I'm straight."
"Kevan, I'm not going back to the yard tonight because I'm not that innocent!"
"Dom, I hate you so GD much, it's unbelievable!"
"Jason, if you don't shut up I'll have to hit Dom again!"

I think my best memory of you is when you asked every single plebe to cover your chow call; except, you actually didn't. Nice going. You know at our ten year reunion, we won't talk about who got what billet or who had a 4.0, we will talk about you not asking and a certain anonymous 2/c Kurrle.
Oh, and then there was that other time that you were injured. . . I'm sure that all your knowledge will aid you out there when everyone comes to you with their computer problems. Naturally you will only be able to fix them half the time, but you will still be the resident nerd. Congratulations, you're a computer geek! Your journey at the glorious Naval Academy has been a great one and your path always straight as an arrow. You came in wanting EOD, then switched to jets, now helos, then Seabees? Wait, then it went to Intel, then Helos again, SWO, supply, finally a decision for subs, eh, maybe not. . . Then one day out of the blue, "Nuke SWO guys, it's what I wanted all along. . . really!" It's been quite an experience here at this humble institution. Good Luck out there in the big scary world.. . .and then there was that time you got hurt again

From the friends in company you hoped to never have: It's amazing that we've known you for 4 years. You were the straight arrow in a curvy world... all to be destroyed in one night of craziness. We'll remember you for your kindness, intelligence, and persistence, but mostly for that one night. Have one more on us Cass. KTY, PJH Being Episcopalian is cool, huh... never thought you'd be the one to twist my arm to go drinking. DJG "Yes, NFO was my first choice"... even though you're small, you're a big friend. Here's to breaking rules…makes Sunday mornings more fun..just don't break the "house rules" Where to start…lets see…does Buena vista ring a bell….here's to long weekends stranded there with the same 4 people…
.and of course who could forget Chad-"Wait is he the pimp? ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS!?" Not to mention the after math also known as Nadia's wedding…who was it who had to carry you into the reception? Jenga…could we think of a worse idea…and let's be honest…how many times can we watch The Sweetest Thing in a row…was it 3? "So this is what it feels like to not be hung over on Sunday…hmm…I kinda like it…let's make a snowman!" "I'll kick your ass, I'm an ATHLETE"…who says that? Then of course there's the superstar NWS #21…captain, 1,2,3..wait how does it go?…diet coke and country… "I'm stretching my toe!" Oh yeah and thanks for getting us a soccer mom…wink wink… "Oh…so you're Garrett" So much for days of sledding, running over cripples, and rule "tweaking"…we love you Amels…don't worry we still got ya for a lil while longer! – KE, XP Amelia, my hometown girl. From the Halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli we fight our country's battles in the air on land and sea. First to fight for right and freedom and to keep our honor clean; We are proud to bear the title of United States Marines. Our flag's unfurled to every breeze From dawn to setting sun; We have fought in every clime and place where we could take a gun. In the snow of far-off Northern lands and in sunny tropic scenes; You will find us always on the job --The United States Marines. Here's health to you and to our Corps which we are proud to serve; In many a strife we've fought for life and never lost our nerve. "Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in humility consider others better than yourselves. Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others. Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus: Who, being in very nature God, did not consider equality with God something to be grasped, but made himself nothing, taking the very nature of a servant, being made in human likeness. And being found in appearance as a man, he humbled himself and became obedient to death--even death on a cross! Therefore God exalted him to the highest place and gave him the name that is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father" (Philippians 2:3-11, NIV).

Seal Team Leslie, Lou-stank-ho, burning writing assignments in a soda bottle, a girl in every port, I guarantee this guy will have command someday, only guy I ever met that reads about Nelson, China and submarines in his free time, shake those haters off, nicest guy ever, best roommate ever, actually put it down on a wrong number, two sport athlete, booty-lock in the 400, found love at the I-ball, Alpha Inspection King, Renaissance Man: engineer, athlete, and ladies man. Maybe if you ignore the problem it will go away. Grown ass man. All the women want him and every man wants to be him. "When are you going to get those pants hemmed Mr. Leslie?" "This guy loves to complain about the Academy." El Caminos and CALIFORNIA! Getting left in the bearpit, helping a shipmate out wrestling the upperclass during Army week got you choked out, what happened?? You know I had your back ... but it was one on one! Taught me everything I know about women (not much). "Do you have any food?" - AC

4/c: Spring Break and Coconut shrimp- please Tom don't explode! Jason it's ok not every upperclassmen at this school hates you, Gold Bond Commandos, 6-Ball, Lauren Carey, Thunder Ted. 3/c: Kevin emerges as dominating swimming star, Staying up late at night talking to Tom while Kevin fell asleep mid conversation, Tom declares that we are living in a dot com world. 2/C: Cruise-One night in TJ w/ Tom, Kevin & Lubbie, Kevin- it is not ok to sleep with another guy naked, First year with Blake, Spring Break in Mexico with the boys, Adopted by Mr & Mrs Shapiro for a semester, Sopranos every Sunday at 9, Saturday afternoons at Tj's grandpa watching football, FireRonZook.com- because the SEC already has one Vandy. 1/C: TJ introduces PS2 to Chris-Blake tells Chris he needs help, Jan 1 engagement to Ashley, Getting into bed for a morning nap only to find Blake already there, Blake and I study 15 min total for finals 1st semester, spooning with Tom in AC, why has no one seen Matt Israel this year? Tom goes to his first Gator game and does the chomp. Predictions: Kevin loses his battle with baldness, Tom buys a conversion van and runs away to Mexico only to reemerge 20 years later with a beard and a Mexican senorita, Blake figures out a way to cram a 5 year Navy career into 3, Ryan says something inappropriate within the first 5 min on his new ship. Four years of great memories and hanging out with the coolest guys ever (even Shrimpy); I made the best of friends, friends that will last a lifetime.

We only had four years together, but we also had lots of good times. The trips to Ocean City…I think we should start around 6...ole Bessie might make it! Four years of training trips…speed bumps….Hoss's driving….club Navigator…Hey ya! The numerous New Years disasters that we endured…Baja Beach Club and temporary tattoos, Ft. Lauderdale, and South Beach. I loved lounging in the streets of Georgetown with you guys or alone! Boots N Suits our plebe year and one exciting Army Navy meet that came down to the last race and 2 points. It seems that I gave everyone "Vera naseum." The walking closet and team fashion coordinator as I was often called. And yes I know I have a shopping problem. Restriction wasn't that bad…we were all there together. What ever happened to Waldo? I love ya girls and am going to miss you! Thanks for all the support you have given me Mom, Dad, and Paul!

I think my roommate pretty much summarized our 4 years here. "Ron Burris has been my roommate now for four years, and he is still a bit of a mystery to me. If I had tried to find someone that was more of a polar opposite of my self, I could not have. Yet, somehow in these four years we have formed an odd and unique friendship, not like most friendships but more like brothers in that there is something stronger that bonds us together than common interests or meshing personalities. Usually that bonding force is a mother, but here I think it's the fact that we live in the same room. Most of our conversations have started with "You know what I really hate about this place?" From water-gun fights, to throwing random objects at each other, we have had our fun. Most nights we spent together facing our desks, working into the early morning. And most mornings he spent throwing things at me or yelling so that I would turn off my alarm and wake up. It seems most of our summers were spent against each other: learning how to break each other's necks in NTT, or his P-3 squadron shooting torpedoes at my submarine, to the competition between 3rd Herd and the 4th Platoon Rocks in Leatherneck. Ron has always been blunt and unafraid to say anything, he is who he is. I am very glad to have spent this time with Ron, and I wish him the greatest blessings wherever he goes. I know as stubborn as he is, there is nothing he cannot do that he wants to do. Good luck Ron. SWO doesn't suck, and neither does Navy Pilot!" (Ervin, 2004) Thanks Travis, sure beats a random Go Navy song.

Five years, a few tickets, an arrest, many women, and a couple of adjudications later, I was raised by a Spanish Princess and a motivated Drill Instructor by the names of Maria Isabel and 1st Sgt. Israel Cantú Sr., USMC(ret'd), I have 4 sisters and three brothers. In order: Guadalupe Cantú de Medina, Israel Cantú Jr., Staff Sgt. Jason Manuel Cantú, Captain Marisol Cantú de Zammit, USMC, Midshipman Candidate Adrianna Maria Cantú, Paloma Bianca Cantú, and last, but not least, Marco Ariell Cantú. I thank those above as well as all of my friends, shipmates, and my motivated underclassmen who have been there through the trials and tribulations of the "Academy Experience." I would not have made it anywhere without the support of my family, teachers, and friends. I am thankful for my wonderful family, my nephews and niece and for support from all when my mother and grandmother became ill. Dad and Mom, I made it(al beit a nasty Sailor)! To my older brothers and sisters, thanks for everything. I've always looked up to you and continue to do so even though I am one of you now. To the last two left of a long line; learn what you can and make your own footprints in life. You do not need to fill our shoes. Put some bigger ones out there for others to emulate. The babies look up to you two specifically and will want to be like you. Make sure you are observant as you have had 6 brothers and sisters and a motivated mother and father that have walked before you. You have had plenty of time to watch. It is your time to live life so ensure you do it right.

Everette Travis Ervin

Surface Warfare

Travis Ervin. Swerve, Magic, the BCGs guy, the Greatest Human Being to Ever Live... Ever. The final member of our happy band has been called this and more. From the greatest county on earth and with more homesickness than any of us ever had, Trav never let anything get him down. His love for bananas and smoothies (the source of his radioactive powers), and his ability to use the word "face" at any time set Trav apart from most normal mids. The frequent Thanksgiving trips to his home in Davie County, NC, made us all want to be Rebels (except Hick maybe), and gave us an appreciation for the Rebel Yell (to be uttered when crossing the county line). Travis Ervin devoted himself to everything with a passion, the Crew Team, the Navigators, the BCGs, the MechE department, and he never cared if they returned it. His ability to endure serious sleep deprivation fueled only by the statement "there's plenty of sleep in the grave" made us all envious, and very tired. But whatever his sleeping habits, Trav's love for God, his family and his friends helped us help each other through anything that came at us. Only You can make every new day seem so new. ~Unit 3

Elizabeth Anne Gillis

Grand Rapids, MI
Surface Warfare

Elizabeth "Coastie in a Mid's body" Gillis came from the vaunted Lower Peninsula of Michigan to bring her special brand of cheer to the banks of the Severn. Though she contracted a terminal case of the Plebe Hack in the summer of 2000 which has kept several strings of roommates awake at night, Elizabeth survived CGA crew, the women's rugby team and two French classes with Graham Scarbro to graduate as Lawrence Brandon's favorite target. Whether it was opening the table for dessert at record high decibel levels Plebe year or leading a band of rowdy Coastie Swabs in cheering for their Division III football team, Gillis never did anything quietly. Her love for the Navy got her through school, where she's allegedly been studying oceanography, although she never seems to know the weather forecast. "Huggy Bear" earned her callsign at CGA because of the outstanding enthusiasm that made her LB's favorite Plebe to pick on and the over-the-top friendliness that made you like her even when she brushed the lint off of you before inspection without asking you first. Nitpickiness aside, Gillis' love for her chosen career and her Academy will carry her a long way in the Fleet... So long as she can get over the Hack. Semper P. ~GCS

It has been an unbelievable party since the day we met. Meesh…What are the odds you meet someone who is even almost right down to a birthday? Half Mexican, Sexy Lexy and colors is purple, birthdays in February, from California, so similar to you, volleyball, and are both 5'4" on a very tall day. From Club Wet to Chippendales, that blonde was SMOKIN, we've definitely refined our tastes. We've been to Cabo San Lucas, Colorado, West Point, to the most awesome ship ever, USS CARTER HELL and don't forget Mad Dog. While I was in Spain, you were telling those blisters on your feet to suck it up because there wasn't any way on God's green earth you were gonna miss out on a FEX. And yes, New Jersey is only 15 minutes away from Philly, dear. Through dropped cakes, "almost not making the team", surgery, and ihtfp days, we've survived it all. USNA had no idea what they were getting into when they got us together, and now the Marine Corps has a pair of hot tamales coming their way, are they ready for us? Teammate, best friend, dance partner, confidant, and above all…MY SISTER. Te quiero muchisimo. "She takes my hand and leads me along paths I would not have dared explore alone." – M.V. Patel.

Gotta say being a roommate with someone for 3 years was both rewarding and interesting. From bringing me home and introducing me to your countless "girlfriends" who were all hot, to partying over at your sponsors, those were some good times. How bout getting stood up by your girls at the last second when we headed to Tennessee or the time at JMU where you definitely needed to be babysat, we made the best of it though. Oh, and then there was that time when you brought me home for Thanksgiving and introduced me to your hot friend by the wrong name. You better work on that. You've definitely turned me off to one thing…Guinness. You're a better man than I am to be able to drink that stuff. Memories of Halloween (are those chaps?!?!), our wonderful "leadership" of 18, Christmas parties/late night "swimming" over at John's, and ring dance were all a great experience, but they wouldn't have been the same without having someone to laugh and make fun of others with. Thanks for the memories, oh yeah, and "I Love You, I Trust You." ~JCL Drinking tequila through a straw, whispering over the phone, forgave me for helping to cause that little harassment incident and you never miss an opportunity to make fun...what more could I ask for in a design partner? Master, Mission, Mate...the principle in which he lives by and cherishes. Frankly, he is a hardworking and focused individual. He's a person seeking after God's heart, always improving himself, dedicated to his goals, enjoys bodily punishment, & simply a Christian Warrior. He's a mission oriented person, achieving what he aims for. More importantly, his life is marked by the grace of God's hand carrying him through the schools of hard knocks in Queens to the hilly roads of Valley Forge to the Naval Academy and soon through the sand pits of Coronado. Stay strong bro. Keep charging hard and stay away from the pinky...no I'm serious. GB. (LHI) Lewis came to the Academy with an open mind and ADM Hill's cover. Though not yet aiming for flag rank, Lewis has always made USNA worth his time. His work on the Campus Crusade prayer team and frequent trips to the pool in efforts to be the Navy's next frogman proved his devotion to his faith and his career. Maybe it was extra shiny shoes, or the extra sharp creases, or even being on Brigade staff, but something about Lewis and you could tell that he wanted to be at the Academy. But whatever the case, Lewis stuck to his guns for four years and after plenty of hard work, he's got no hair, no eyebrows, and a trip to Coronado to show for it. Who knows, he may put on ADM Hill's cover some day after all...(GCS)

Brett or Brettley "No Shame In My Game/Get Your Mouth Off My Keg" Johnson arrived at the Academy from "Dirty Jersey" looking to own the place, which he almost did. After almost getting sent to Leavenworth plebe year (which was a close one), B.J. decided to lay low for a bit. It's not that he didn't know how to have a good time, though; he could probably have fun at a monastery. His venue of choice, however, would be Double D's or the Body Shop, keeping them in business. Youngster year brought broad horizons and new beginnings such as getting thrown out of the worst club in Jersey. Hey, there's a first time for everything. Junior year, the big A/N bash in NJ prepared him for the office parties and the ever necessary role he would have 1/c year as the Beaver party liaison. Graham "yo tengo una novia" Scarbro. The only one who ever liked the Naval Academy, threw coins in Tecumseh's quiver, knew all the yard gouge, and ate the Cheeburger Cheeburger 1-pounder before graduating junior high. He lived in Annapolis so long he had to get out for a semester at Coast Guard (in which he missed up to and including 5 billion points, but not as many as Grant Bryan, who was gone for a whole year, thus exponentially decreasing his point total to below the lowest circle of Hades). Nay, but thou didst laugh. He's the one who drew all the cool pictures of us, and made all the T-shirts we never got. He also was the one with enough soul to ask the question: "Is better to get up, or get down?" JAG made two episodes about the only summer cruise he had with the U.S. Navy. Coincidence? We kept him around because he let us use his house (well, we kept him around until we realized we could go there without him, like the time we watched Hook in his basement, and he mowed the lawn). Graham was also the founder of "benchism," and he was always found sitting on the bench next to Tecumseh before afternoon classes espousing the virtues of "chilling out." His second two years were spent trying to get his roommate from the first two years to live with him again. That man is the incomparable… (See Ervin)

I don't think there's a luckier girl in the world…To my boys, my big brothers…You've taken care of me through these four years. We've had laughs, lots of drinks, and a great time here at USNA. Who ever thought I could have such great friends. Nate, I am responsible for you not leaving here ;) and you know it. Erwin, if you ever need a ride to NYC, let me know. Jonas, ITALY need I say more? Ernie, I will visit you in Puerto Rico, you hottie. Dave, my favorite Marine (and favorite teddy bear) you are my soul and know me like none other. Tyler, picture perfect – please take me to a movie sometime. Deng, you know you want me! Clayton, you're the hot older brother all my friends want ;) I love you guys.To my sister… Jessica you have been there for me for four years. Whether it's shopping or sleeping, or giving ourselves facials in Don's basement, I will never forget you. Spring Break..or should I say "wreck" and then Hawaii, which made up for everything. I know North Dakota missed you these past few years, but I will miss you so much more these next several.And my Robby…who ever thought this would happen?!?! We've denied the rumors but it's useless. You are my best friend and my boyfriend. You give me a reason to smile every day. Howie Day, Chicago, New Years, Central Park, and right here in Maryland, you've been with me four years. And tomorrow no matter where I am, or how far away I may be from you, "you've got my only heart". Your favorite Dirty Jersey Girl.Lauren

You are such a well-kept secret. With the trials of the past years behind you now, you have suddenly metamorphosed into the incredible person you have always had the potential to become. Your drive is unstoppable, your determination unending, and your fight is fearsome. It has been a wonder to see your smothering spark slowly burn into the open, showing the whole world all that you have to offer. You have taught me much about perseverance, unconditional love, and the true meaning of soul sisters. We have learned that there are no rules for the allocation of luck in this world. Just because you didn't say it doesn't mean I didn't hear it, Smeegle, and there truly is a little bit of "customer" in all of us. If you can't find it, just think of Captain. If you ever need me, put on your POW bracelet, and you will know that we were supposed to be a part of each other's lives. Keep in mind that you always know the right answer, but you have to sometimes be quieter to hear it. A good midshipman, steadfast friend, and terrific person. As with most people, Ryan's USNA beginnings were humble. "04 Day" and telling the Pig to keep his legs straight were the major highlights of Plebe Summer. The Pig seeks vengeance with every war known to man. Youngster year begins with booze and trouble. Restriction is good, huh? I crawl through the ceiling and the Volpekuehne rages. We get a wee bit o' Irish in us and have the time of our lives invading foreign soil. Who else has seen Pikees in real life? Firsty year and we just want to leave. It's been an amazing ride and thank goodness it's over. Don't want to be too mushy but it's been an honor and a privilege to serve with you. –Petey There is truly is no better way to bond with a person than keeping him from complete solitary confinement of restriction. I met someone who truly loved life even when it was handed to him on a rusty platter. Saluting you in May could be the most painful experience of my career because I wish I could be returning the salutes with you. No matter where we end up or when we get there, it will be just like kayaking against an Alaskan tide with a head wind. No matter how much it sucks, or how long it takes, at least we'll have plenty of time to make fun of each other when it's over! I love you man!-Grant

From the Halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli we fight our country's battles in the air on land and sea. First to fight for right and freedom and to keep our honor clean; We are proud to bear the title of United States Marines. Our flag's unfurled to every breeze From dawn to setting sun; We have fought in every clime and place where we could take a gun. In the snow of far-off Northern lands and in sunny tropic scenes; You will find us always on the job --The United States Marines. Here's health to you and to our Corps which we are proud to serve; In many a strife we've fought for life and never lost our nerve. If the Army and the Navy ever look on Heaven's scenes, they will find the streets are guarded By United States Marines.

Hanna Lea Lusuegro Alerta: one word to describe her…maganda. We've been through hell in 3052 to heaven in 4428. Adventures with Absolut in the back of Kathy's car, the 21st birthday you and I will NEVER forget, the hottie wall of fame, late night bed time talks, taking Sarah shopping, almost getting you stuck in Mexico, making tamales, seeing snow for the first time, rhyming = Sean Bean, Turkey day at Tita's, DTA and the O'Brien's nights, and finally admitting you and CaluagMudslide are more than friends! Girl, you have been my rock through this rollercoaster. Besides repeating "serenity NOW" you have kept me sane here and I will never forget your laugh and your smile. I have not only made a friend, but I have gained a sister. All these years I have learned one thing to say that you would only understand and that I wish I could say more often to you…MAHAL KITA!~MEA Alby, hind kita makakalimutan. MEESH – best roommate, four years of late night heart-to-heart talks, secrets and gossips. 'Sunny' San Diego, crossing TJ border, bus to NY, fun in NY, girls' night out in Philly, Wet DC, everywhere with you was a blast. We've endured pain, won challenges, and laughed at our mistakes. You're my defender against monkey-hating-people, my source of laughter and amusement, my teacher on American culture…the good part of it. You're 'cheerful' and 'girly', the dancing goddess of all dances. In DTA you show your grace and style, an amazing and intense leader on the vball court, in the hall, you're our youngster's favorite. From hearts on your i's to three stripes on your shoulder, nothing's changed, you remained the Mexican girl everybody admires.....O3's in particular. I'll come back for your wedding in Mexico. Serenity now…~HLLA..but don't leave out g-string divas, sex in the city, trying to take a picture of me peeing on monkey girl, sambada new year, stolen shoes, so hot in hur, does this make me look like a jota? Oh and PBR!~AFG

1st- Having a car has mad character and that's good to learn to drive stick in. The bug hardly compares to that stupid 15 passenger. It's all worth it for skiing (everywhere). So it all started with Selmo. Navy swimming wasn't enough but skiing/ mt. biking/ rock climbing/ camping/ hiking seems to do the job. Did your hot enlisted Marine friends really break down? What? Formation? The rack, again? Ab sculpting today! How many times did we see OAR? Toothpick rocks. Hunter trip from hell, stuck in Jersey. Spring breaks under $500 are great, but the true cost: those damn ims. Two years of complimenting profiles. "Take only pictures, leave only footprints" Crazy times at the Carr's. Great tailgates: smoking cigars/ cloves (that's it). Protecting others from hurting themselves, then, crazy risk for a broken arm and pins that had to be cleaned by a toothbrush!! Also, risk taking doesn't apply to driving. Its about the left hand turn signal and right hand pass (Don't be that guy). I will try anything once, or twice, or until it kills me. See you in Vermont some day.

Sarah Lawrence the blonde guy magnet from Houston, Texas.
She hasn't always been the blonde bombshell we know of today. Remember that mullet? And what about those glasses? GONE and good riddance! Who can forget the 21st birthday/dining out where the porcelain goddess and a mighty attractive '01 grad were the only things you were interested in? Hanna and I were so lucky to have our own computer repair guru living with us who managed to install a DVD player in her own car! Book reading turned out to be her most expensive vice after her stint with the anti-fructose dilemma, which led her to consume only the hard stuff. That didn't stop her from seeking the miraculous wonders a Chippendales show could do for a foursome of single girls in Las Vegas. By the way, D.T. wouldn't be the Mr. GQ he is today if it weren't for this girl, you are a much better plebe summer squad mate than I ever was. You're off to the aviation world and I'll be expecting air support for me and my Marines one of these days. I love you!- M.A.

Looking back on the last four years, you don't remember most of the bad times—and some of your good times have to be told to you the next morning. Spring break, the cabin, Pirate's Cove, Naples, St Bonaventure (and accidentally Orlando), sailing detail… Chevy trucks…40s… have all made the down times worth it. On a cold snowy day…that is how it began. It was supposed to only be 6 months but 2 years was much better. Rain party? Recruit Parties with Pamela and the speech. Harbor whores. Crying on the roof. Pony Keg Friday and the Follow up with Pony Keg Destruction Night. Then there was Croquet, from the Match to the Shire gin and tonics were all we desired. Selection Night worked out great. Too many memories, too much fun. See ya budday in the Land of the Rising Sun!!—Jake Mmm guysss, when we get home, act cool...she knows. That warm day when Kee-Kee blew chunks from his nose. One day I'll beat you at NCAA, or Golf. Sorry about thanksgiving, that game was personal. The smoke signals were answered, in the worst way...only to see more belly another day...our film debut was the greatest...Saki, Saki, get used to that...have fun in the pacific, I'll be in Iraq-- look out, its a C Double attack Kee kee better start stretching. God I hope we have a thursday practice tomorrow. Tweeter and the monkey man on the never ending road, that was the biggest bag I've ever seen. Where's the ping pong ball. Oh Bear. Buried the keg in NC. Should have never went to the beach, watching Chris was good enough. Heres to swimming with bow legged women. What a long strange trip its been.-ATM

Yo Spaz... Do you remember that day on the seawall? The rest of the flavors do. Penn had no idea that a legend was born that day. Then and now, I was always right there when you spazzed out. Hopefully my guidance and cool temper has helped you along the way. Hah. So here goes... gold medals, the interns, the thermo, the freakin back pain, the car at high RPMs, the margaritas, the swing, the dancetron 5000 or whatever that game was called. Have fun with the not-quite-marines, I'm sure the greatest Spaz moments are yet to come... yo, we have Yale shirts... CMV; spazz, flava, 4 seats down...magnum...6 seats up, DDR, swing dancing with guyman's wife, thanx leaving it all on the severn every day – ba; Guys, we only have 10 hours before the alpha... Two Tons of Steel, yeah baby! C.J. how do you spell "gone" again? Do you think 5 coats of wax is enough? Ricketts has two t's in it right? Given these idiosyncrasies, and many unmentionable ones, mike is by far one of the most caring and fun to around roommates. His drive and determination to succeed will propel him to the top way before either of us "roomies" begin our climb. :o)

"There is a time for everything and a season for every activity under heaven." Ecc. 3:1
Now is the time to give thanks: to incredible parents who helped me live my dreams; to the best big sister imaginable for all the advice (and a beautiful niece and nephew); to the guys for finally accepting me; to the roomies for laughter, tears, and understanding; and to the man I love for being the man I love. "Happenin' chicks in 8036!" PMP, our "circuit course," big bootie, poopy suits, sweet-talking the dirty chief, slumber parties, shaving cream wars, falling out of racks, and ritual goodnight hugs. Travis Leonard Wood

A man who realized early on that if you slept 12 hours a day you were only at the Naval Academy for two years, Travis could think out of the box like none other. His thoughts of the day bewildered, and stumped, even the quirkiest of physics professors. Just curious, how many licks to the center of a corndog or the recipe for a peanut butter and jelly rack? A modern day Renaissance man, Travis could grasp any concept thrown at him whether it was physics, cooking, sailing or pro-knowledge five minutes before the test. He frequently would find ways to bide the time until the next rack marathon by watching movies but never studying. Other days he would quicken time at the snatch of a watch and be in total control-yet no one worried when that happened, they just went with the flow. You got the dangerous combo of charisma and brains and that make you, well, dangerous.

Tom, whatcha studying?, "Natural Selection" So, where does she go to school?, "Dude, she's HOT!" To have grown a world apart from my own, you turned out to be a great friend, reassuring confidant, and molder of many newfound perspectives. As we go our separate ways know your friendship will always hold a special place and be an integral part within my life. Best of luck always and may God bless you! :o) C.J.

Zarr…Zarra…Zarrac uh, Z. Always an athlete, you never gave up on playing a sport. From crew to cycling you took everything hard-core. From seat racing in the shells to your tight cycling suits always hanging in the bathroom. heck even the Gunny's called you a "stud." So, martial arts or the Navy, what'll it be? I think you made good choice, and I'm sure you can always impress those hooyah's out there with your knowledge. Don't forget about England and the good ol' time with the older chicks. You've had an interesting collection of roommates, from those who left, to the real napster, to some lubie kid that surely brought your game around with the ladies. We both went from being to reserved with the ladies, to actually making some moves. Who woulda thought, you finally thought inside the box and good times resulted. Maybe being the good guy does work out in the end. Senior year, you finally find roommates that worked out for the best. What an interesting room, from strongbad the physicist to some guy that might just joke around more than you. Turning boring old times into somehow very comical moments was our specialty… . Marine corps, what!? Well, I'm sure you'll attack this one well too and hopefully I'll see you up in the sky. Thanks for the great times, I don't know if I'd say "stud," but you're a great guy and you deserve all the best, good luck.

From the Halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli we fight our country's battles in the air on land and sea.
First to fight for right and freedom and to keep our honor clean;
We are proud to bear the title of United States Marines. Our flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun;
We have fought in every clime and place where we could take a gun. In the snow of far-off Northern lands and in sunny tropic scenes; You will find us always on the job --The United States Marines. Here's health to you and to our Corps which we are proud to serve; In many a strife we've fought for life and never lost our nerve. If the Army and the Navy ever look on Heaven's scenes, they will find the streets are guarded by United States Marines.

I am a portrait painted by the Lord, a sculpture at work, trying to reach perfection. Blessed with a slew talents and abilites that He chose to give me as a tool to honor and glorify his name. Endowed with countless people in my life to help this sculpture to reach its fulfillment of perfection.
But, because the Lord is working so passionately in my life, the devil is trying to capture a man of my calibur to decieve the world. I am a man that is constantly tempted to do the devils work. I often fail! Trust is an issue. Love is another. Loyalty is the third. So I stand alone once again.
A man that needs to become more like "every man, God's man"! This is my journey, to make my sculpture material as malleable as can be. This will be my effort to help the Lord mold me into the man I need to be. I will GLORIFY HIS NAME!

First person I met on I-day, getting caught talking in line. Talking to the GGs, "How are you tonight?" – "Well, I'm a little warmer…." "Get out of here…" "Sir, my rifle's name is Billy Bob Gene…." IN THE HONOR ROOM??? Can I have ONE Funyon please??? Who was that in our room during those plebe summer nights? "George, why don't you know my name?" – "I'm Greene Sir…" New Years in Boston and Montreal. NTT stellar squad. Never Ever Have I Ever… Abby's house and being put to work. First plebe girl to march tours in our company. And did you really burn my face with a curling iron? Tuesday night tanning buddies. Queens of "maximizing our liberty." Dancing on bars. Drinking out of buckets. Never forget SB in Costa Rica with Caesar, 21st birthdays in VA Beach, lotsa concerts, Intersessionals in Sherborn, countless Real World episodes, and two New Years Eves. Thanks for ski lessons and endless eighties trivia. Maybe one day you'll overcome that motion sickness and be able to fly into hurricanes. For now, best of luck in Mayport! Ashley, did you hear me? He either had stripes or the same name. We'll still marry the first person we ever date. Food anyone? The grocery store is in our closet. Bikinis on the beach in the freezing cold wind. Too much stuff. I mean who really has a shaved ice maker? Pilates in the room. Open the door! Shopping online. Rehoboth beach night, hit and run. How many fender benders? Service Selection: CIA. If Reynolds Shrink Wrap needs a spokesman, he's the guy...that guy that nobody knew was in the company, nice to meet you finally! Oh yes, I've been known to get away with just about anything.
How did the hole on my leg get there? I'm so sneaky, I don't even know! God bless the bike team. Its given me endurance, stamina, and frustration for many reasons. Short and to the left but that never stopped him from pumping away at those arms…Go Navy Bike Team! Uhh, forties in the back of a van? How did you get that tan being so shady? It's getting late but we still have half the homework left. You know what we always say. Just don't try that at nuke school. No man has accomplished so much with so many people not knowing about it, but that's what shrink wrap is all about, keeping it undercover. This shady cat was the worst in the brigade, quiet cool collected. Just don't get him going on one of his random laugh outbursts, they last quite awhile. The greek knows what's up, right roomie? Hey matt you there "yeah Phil" okay nevermind... I never did Matt. I never did. Anyhow, if you ever have a medical concern you know who to call… my parents are doctors. Thanks for all the memories from Key West to Cancun (look Dad I'm on national TV, wait is that guy with the camcorder filming me?) Over three and one half years living together! Don't worry you didn't really hit him even if those handcuffs sure felt real?! (NB) Road trips! Cook-outs in the rain...drinks with mom...sleeping on couches..."What exactly are you two?"..dancing.. to long conversations, to "Mason, fix it!" to your infinite patience, to girl advice and boy help: we've done it all. (JB) Hey, have I ever mentioned I know Al Gore? No?!?! Let me tell you about EVERYTHING. And yes, your mom reminds people of the "forgetful" fish from Finding Nemo. (DJ) "Hooters waitress=a legitimate profession." Intercessionals: speedos and sombreros, we'll get another shot at PJ sometime. (EBM) Dont forget Cheddar came to life at your house! Ah to be done with school. It was a pain while I was there but looking back all that I can remember are the good time that were had doing things to pass the time. Between sailing physics and frisbee there wasn't much time to think about anything else, but with a combination like that who would want to. It did earn me the several nick names, well that and my living style. A few points leave behind for fribee guys are Ruby Tuesdays any time that you are on an MO, and never take on the "responsibilities" of team captain, they can be bigger and uglier than you think. Physics is a blast you just have to survive until everyone's test average drops down to yours. As far as sailing goes it's a blast, sailing through ice flows isn't, but coaches like Heff just make you want to do it. What can you say about Chris? He's short, a pack rat, from cali, and wants to be a sub driver. Despite all these short comings, he's a great guy who will always help you out when you need it. I think you guys enjoyed "The Academy Experience" as much as I did. Track- most rewarding, exciting, and worthwhile thing I've ever done. Every year we get better . . . and every year I have more stats to remember. Cooksey, Bartels, and Cantello- always keeping us entertained. Poker- I never knew what a great game it was until I came here. Thanks to everyone for the donations. Guitar- I'm not Eddie Van Hunt as Ben once said, but it's been fun jammin' with everyone. And now, the end is near
And so I face the final curtain

I'll state my case, of which I'm certain
I've lived a life that's full
I traveled each and ev'ry highway
And more, much more than this, I did it my way
For what is a man, what has he got?
If not himself, then he has not
To say the things he truly feels and not the words of one who kneels
The record shows I took the blows and did it my way.

Bad luck and all he was still one of the nicest fellows you'd ever meet, even if he did look stoned when you met him. t's the swagger, his esteemed conduct history, and the fact that he was smart enough to realize that hopping in tights and rowing a boat with a bunch of men just wasn't cool which made him a legend. Wow...we have so much in common. We make things happen...handles... he's looking at YOU! Our weekend routine...Lighthouse, Hurricanes, BK, DC. NOT a package deal! Shopping for our ridiculous outfits and then actually wearing them. Football Sundays...Monday track practices. I don't know what I'm gonna do with out you helping me and my big mouth...yes, we do have bats. So special...bless our hearts...pimpette cups. You DO love him. Partners in ----- Double Trouble. I wouldn't want to protect our house with anyone else! Stomach aches...ownership...the POWER...exactly. Montel, Brendan and the many others...show em how DC does it...and did you! No rooms... "Where's Calvin?" I just wanna...YAK...take one for the team. Get off my girlfriend...we'll prove it. Future plans...at the same time...so tall...Thoroughbreds...exactly. Don't know what Shaniqua is gonna do without you...last time you left she made $20. Save my room.

The cheapest person I know, but at least he'll be buying an expensive ring soon. You're lucky, maybe someday I will be too. AOE II. Roommates for 3 and a half years. Our midget, "I'm a one woman man." Was that ever true? "Its here, its here!" "What? PUNK!" How many times did I tell you to quit crew? Yeah, we argued, but were always there when the other needed someone.- AWS To a fellow rower who quickly became a good friend. You're one of the few rowers we know that can complain about the sport so much, yet still find enjoyment in it and win medals and t-shirts. We will miss riding in the BMW with you on Maryland's back roads, the stories, the kidnapping (14!!!!) the dinner dates with the interns, the movies, and of course the advice. Ahhh budday! What do you know...Ford Mustangs, DC, Beer Pond...President's Weekend Plebe year: funny movie, Georgetown and free breakfast, Bud Light and all before noon. Riva Road: Our home. Croquet...Backyard x-games...BBQs...Pony Kegs...and Pamela. War Paint...Blackouts...Wake Boarding...Charlie, Acme, and Bowling "I am moving out!!!" Glad you didn't-Good luck in P-Cola...see ya in the fleet—Jake. It started with trips to Greg's with Dan, drunk after Thanksgiving, Dinosaurs, pulling over on Rt. 50, Georgetown, running back late. Spring Break in San Felipe, drunk go-carts, beer pond, wakeboarding with Nick's boat, smashed at Bruce's. Golf+Beer=MIP but the Warped Tour made up for it. 311 and Pennywise, Best Trick wakeboarding, motorcycles, throwing it down at the Shire. Surfing in SD, flying jets, pony kegs (no regrets), snowboarding, kicked out of ACME, croquet, beer pong, beer bongs. The big boat, the elusive tantrum, the wrecked shoulder. New Years & Copper Mt. From detail into the ac-year – "Uh-oh, I think a high pressure front's moving in…you know what that means, Plebers: we might get a visit from Hurricane Benbow!" Well, after all that, we've finally made it. Nothing like being on the five-year-plan, huh? At least you never had to sit in the 'yellow chair.' Congratulations on getting Navy Pilot; I told you there was nothing to worry about. Most of all, thanks for putting up with me through NWP and two years at USNA. He rolls old school in the El Camino, he walks tall (HA!) like the hero from a Kung Fu flick, and he drinks beer from a pitcher. He's the man, the myth, the legend...he is Dave Campbell. That's him in a nutshell, at least on the surface. Dig a little deeper and you find Freud's dream come true. The guy is afraid to sleep (who knows what dream will haunt him next), he HATES wearing clothes (even on watch), and has skittles and root beer at the base of his food pyramid (he was fuelling up for the marathon...for four years). Look more closely and it only gets worse. He spouts Marvel canon and movie quotes like historical facts, speaks of Harley rides in the Southwest as if they were mythical, and does things like slyly wielding butter knives and making his own nunchuks. However, you eventually dig so far that you come out the other side...the softer side. He does charity work, coaching local Russians in the ways of coolness. And even with all of his Bruce Lee inspired madness and machismo, he still needs a library card to check out his huevos. He always has the epitome of a Mexi-CAN attitude (mixed with a little bit of Mr. Miagi and Billy Jack on the side). Dave always gives you a unique perspective that can only come from actually living, and his sailors will love him for it (and respect his digging experience). He is the wise man, the teacher, the hooker, the peacemaker, the confidant, and the man of constant sorrow. He thinks himself a lucky man, but his friends are truly the lucky ones. PS – Baby Bruce, you will be missed.

Sean Michael Driscoll

Oconomowoc, WI
Medical Corps

If you ever pass Sean Driscoll on the street, he will greet you with uncommon kindness and a hearty handshake. That is, right after he greets the clock. Oh, and if he starts counting the lines on his fingertips, don't be alarmed. It's just his own special way of recovering from weeks on his deathbed. If the sun is out, he might dart between spots of shade to avoid melting. If you want to be nice, talk about Breakfast at Tiffany's, but don't invite him to play lasertag. He can't tell which team he's on. Besides, that bag taped to his leg kind of gets in the way. Unfortunately, Sean never had as much luck with women as his best mate Bryce did. That's OK, though…he'll always have Carmen San Diego (just as long as he keeps coming out of the closet). His genius is matched only by his colossal laziness. Don't worry, though...if you're in a downed helo with him in the desert, he'll patch up your wounds and serenade you. He's so considerate that he'll even give you a German lullaby while sleeping. He's just that considerate. That's why his friends defy anyone to find someone who dislikes him. He is truly the most caring individual on the planet, and he is nice to everyone (unless you're in the Army Corps of Engineers).

Adam Michael Farber

Cranbury, NJ
Navy NFO

Hide your beer bottles and reinforce your latticework…Here comes Adam. To date, the only thing that has been able to contend with a froggy Farbs is the Gunny…in T-court…in front of everyone. Aside from constantly trying to convince Gunny how hard it's raining, Adam enjoyed torturing himself with Epil-Stop and riding tanks on restriction. (Hmmm….maybe he forgot to iron his white works on purpose.) If you roomed with him, you would know…what happens while you're asleep is none of your business. In the days of 8250, LTZ recognized his potential as a prior early on…experience Farbs used to teach us many things, such as how to find Australians in Hong Kong (among other things…bu xie bu xie), and how to date WAY out of your league. He also learned much in his time here, like why you don't volunteer for PMP or attack the gate guards with an AK-47. Most memorably of all is the account of his death: He was waylaid by fake smoke and Frank stepping on him, only to rise like a phoenix from the ashes of his own feces to live again. And after all that, he still thinks he has claws to go with his fur coat. The thing is, the beserker attack that made the latticework cry is an example of exactly how stupid he gets for the people he cares about. Sure, he talks (and kicks, punches, shaves patterns in himself, etc.) before he thinks, but at least he's on our side. And quite frankly, it's good to know that certain things will never change.

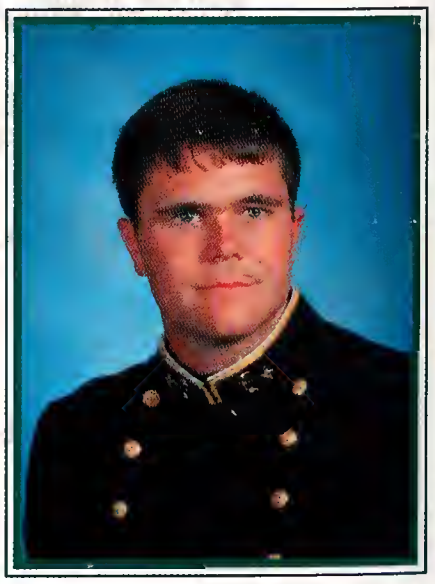
Anthony Joseph Guidry

Houston, TX
USMC Pilot

The Guidry is the guy you want to know. He consumes enough whiskey to kill a donkey, and then wakes up smiling the next morning. You can play beer pong with his parents and they'll cook gumbo for you. You want bootlegs? He's your man. (Until the Feds catch onto him…"HIDE THE HARD DRIVE!!!") You want to know how to get kicked out of your company and then be hanged in Mem Hall? Again, he's your man. You want to learn how to burninate at level 38? He's…oh…no, he's almost your man, but not quite. Guids is the kind of guy to run a marathon and then sign himself off for 5 tours. He is an expert at airsoft sniping, having drunken fireworks displays, holding stupid grudges, and losing miserably at the nose game. He is the cynic of cynics, the lover of ticks (literally), the ribeye, the Cajun sensation, and a proponent of vigorous G-rated co-ed activities. He has overcome many hardships, such as making huge car payments (where do those go?) and being repeatedly mistaken for a Texan and/or a tool. But through it all, he enjoyed the protective warmth of his magic wool (not to mention the carpet he wears on his legs). It was a great day when Anthony came to us. We immediately knew we had a friend that would be with us through everything. Ironic, isn't it? The best thing to happen to 24th Company in the last three years was caused by a bitter manifesto and a small man with a bad haircut.

Nicholas James Hargraves

El Paso, TX
Navy Pilot



It was a long journey to commissioning for Nick. He had to overcome the kind of social retardation that can only be bred by military school. After working extra hard for his rainbow ribbon, he checked in for plebe summer… and mentally checked out soon thereafter. With nothing but his rubber ducky and the memories of his beloved dog, Maggie, he forged through the next four years. During plebe year, he managed to keep his fridge hidden, but as for everything else, "he just didn't feel like it." After turning his D & D obsession into a successful business venture, he battled his A.D.D. and bravely took blows from Guidry's fist and Frank's…well, you'll just have to watch the video. He spearheaded a campaign to get himself elected as the Supreme Uberdork, and soon after celebrated his victory by building a computer out of a nuclear reactor. With his plan for world domination nearing completion, he focused on developing himself into a finely tuned varsity athlete, eventually proving to his jerk friends that he is among the best skippers in the nation. In his spare time, Nick managed to amass quite a solid DVD collection, which is reputedly the best in the company. He might tell you how excited he is about being a pilot, but in reality, he's sad that he's flying. He was always the type to worry about his health, but fortunately for us, it actually does NOT look cancerous, and Nick will be with us for a very long time. His friends were lucky to have had such a loyal and good natured guy with them for four years.

Captain Korea we will call him one day. When this dedicated SWOrean is in charge of his entire Navy, we will still remember the Boner of the good old days. We will never forget his stirring rendition of "Da Boys in da Hood." Nor will we forget how, after years of convincing us that he was shy and that he "doesn't undastand," how his true personality exploded with one phrase: S.M.D. He tried to hide a lot of things from us, like how smart he is (because he didn't want to do everyone else's work), or the fact that he is actually a Communist spy, or that he is some hybrid breed of super-ninja. We saw through it, though, and made it our mission to corrupt him. When he worked his first Nightshift, it started a landslide that ended with his dad rescuing him from an emergency room. He returns to his nation with increased sneakiness skills, as a certified sKOOba master, and the ability to explain to his friends the meaning of the phrase, "Bi bi a mokta." We will miss him greatly but "by the way", we will always remember the short time we had with him, and we expect great things from him.

Meat…That pretty much says it all about Frank the Tank. He's loud when you need silence, he pukes in the shower when you have an alpha, and he disengages the 4WD on the black ice…absolute meat. If you see him in the weight room, his tattoo will say hi before he does, but for all his talk about "jacking steel," his legs make him look like Big Bird without feathers. He loves hockey, and he finds it relatively easy to score, provided the goalie wears a mask. He has no problem with mullets (but he hates herbs), as long as the mullet bar has a pool table. He would happily stay at your house, but only if you have a spare racecar bed. If you're shopping for him, he likes any shade of pink, and he really is pretty undiscriminating with regards to size, too. He has been known to wear a few stripes, play some prop, and taste what Dave rejects. He claims that he's not a closer, but we all know that V stands for more than victory. He could be found teaching Koo new English or, more recently, keeping Gunny and LT out of the loop. So what if he's meat? Does it really matter that he thinks John Mellencamp wrote all those songs specifically about Attica? Not to his friends. They know that when it really comes down to it, he likes the Cheat and he sticks to his guns, no matter what.

The T-Bag has and always will be a man of few words, although he's a man of many random sound effects. Still, for all of his silence, he was never accused of being subtle. He was never shy about his love of Miller Lite, Dragon ball Z, his people, his Carhart, or his ratty orange hat. He is the Nuclear Marine, a man on a mission from way back, 1997 in fact. The 4-day FO, 1-day Pilot and the only man to ever leave a key inside a Velcro-sealed vehicle. Come to think of it, maybe he did that on purpose; otherwise he might come flying through the gate with guns blazing. Was that a truck or tractor? As a founding member of Restrictor, he knows how to get in and out of trouble…so what if it involves Ralph? At least he has his horseshoe intact. Known for his ability to steal women away from Joes, if you fall into this category you'll need to keep your eye on him at all times. Be warned, though…DO NOT steal his CD's, ask him to do lunch, or leave him alone in Rome. If you wanna be on the bone list, he's your man. If you wanna get off the bone list, just buy him some smokes. He'll probably respond with either, "let's go find out," or "what…no tongue?" His friends have no doubt that his brand of common sense mixed with random goofiness will help him be an outstanding Marine officer.

"One time me and my brothers..." Isn't that how everything else starts too? Too bad Sean missed a great Pat Green concert, the rest of us had a great time. Or how about the time he got into a boxing match with a 12-foot inflatable snowman? Or that memorable subway ride back after the Army/Navy game in New York. When doing something dumb won't do, he has a unique ability to not be at a loss for words. That looks "crappy." Sean had to take a class to learn to speak English, as opposed to hillbilly. On June 30th 2000 I reported to the Academy as a very motivated, very clueless, but well meaning plebe and haven't changed all that much. Running track, studying chemistry, making life-ling buddies and growing up have made 4 years fly by. Though over those years, the 4 walls of Bancroft have drawn out the craziness in me. After flying in a helio, I only dreamed out of jumping out of the back in a scuba suit. I like to think that I am not mentally sound, but medical has cleared me!- SMR…Hi, my name is Shannon Revell, ooohrah! Pizza! Pizza! Pizza! Pull up your pants, girl. Gelato on the weekends, by the gallon, thanks John. Why are you under your desk? The fire doors are supposed to be closed, I swear. Phone calls from people we don't know at 2am…yes, I know about it, thank you! It holds 3 songs…well, it did…whew, thanks John. Why are you two in the men's room? Crazy boys, crazy stories, hope there's more in store! -KAS…What Shannon? You want to go blow s##t up? You managed to do it all: sushi/dancing/coffee/spontaneous flights to the Bahamas. But please don't forget trying to pick up guys in Tijuana. You will be sorely missed when a Trader Joes run is necessary for maintaining life. Chocolate covered espresso beans, careful you get wild! Lets shake the buzz and go run for the track team: 400x10 with no break if you dare! DC to DTA…10 min..need I say more? Beach babe how do you keep those abs of steel so hard? Was it the movies in snow storms or the tow rope off of your sailboat? No. It was the all night dancing from swinging to techno. We all know you will be great-luv-E

Dima is the man. No, no, no...He's the guy behind the guy behind the guy. Get some Patron in him and he's like a big bear with giant claws and sharp teeth. He wasn't always this money, though. There was a time when he lived in a bubble, and he knew nothing of car insurance, moils, or the practices of religion. He lived a happy life, eating kosher foods some of the time and never, ever needing a chair. When we burst the bubble, we created a monster named El Ruso Sucio. He began biting women, eating roses, forgetting to remove his socks, and relieving himself under beach chairs. His spending habits became erratic (Walt Disney would like to thank him for the charitable donation), and he became legally classified as lethal weapon behind the wheel (that one is not our fault...thank you Manhattan cab drivers). Today, his car, much like both his shoulders, is nothing but a thin covering over reconstructed innards. His musical influences range from the Russian national anthem to the theme songs from his favorite films (which have inspired some of his best work; they really ARE the greatest thing ever). One thing, however, has never changed. He will still give you the shirt off his back without a second thought to himself (or to the ghastly sight of his exposed glasscutters). His father is exceedingly proud of him, and we all know that his Mother, may she rest in peace, would unquestionably feel the same way.

Whether you're looking for whoever took all the extra cookies from King Hall or your latest video, look no further than Joe. This climber extraordinaire enjoys So Co, Crawfish Etoufee, Lasagna, and getting rufied in Fredonia. He's the only man we know to be yelled at for being considerate enough to vomit directly into a toilet, and also the only man to be banned from the highway system of the state of Pennsylvania. He's Dima's guitar backup, Litchfield, Jr, the Greatest Wardroom Officer Ever, and the Undisputed Champion of Getting Kicked out of Spinnaker's. What you have to remember about Joe is that he's always right; it's reality that's flawed. Be sure not to get him mad, or he'll invoke the Toothbrush Revenge. Beat Army, shipmate, not me! A man with uncompromising standards, in his book it's either a ten, or it's Tucker Max Time. After all, he was able to hook everyone else up during Spring Break, except himself. He's always willing to do something personally before he asks someone else to do it, no matter what the task – except for getting ditched in Europe. He'll soon be making his father and brother proud, by following in their footsteps right into the Marine Corps. Joe, you're money and you don't even know it. Oh, and we're still sorry about not getting your truck.

Four years at USNA have left many great memories… ASC and the trashcan… SAC and… and… whatintheheck did that guy do that's even remotely incriminating anyhow? My roommates tell me that they will universally remember me for my ability to clean the floor. Apparently it had something with a trip to the Fleet Reserve Club followed by a bout of scrubbing the floor in less than a complete set of PT gear. I assure you all that I have no idea what they are talking about, can't remember a thing. How sad. What can I say, maybe I should have been around company area more often… Oh well. Here is to our the company and all the fun we had evading LT-Z, introducing and inevitably re-introducing ourselves to LT-R, chillin with LT-H and, of course, discussing the finer grammatical points of the English language with Gunny… Friggen heellllllll-yeah! How did Shawn Wilkinson get through boot camp? He "did a lot of pushups." Odds are he probably thought it was fun. In fact, he has the unbelievable knack for making everything fun. He's so happy about life that he hasn't stopped fidgeting for over twenty years. Whether it was teaching Koo to sing in English, sailing, or even living with Kenny Cruz, he was having a blast. He had fun wild-manning the LT, and had fun paying for it. He had the best November dress-up parties anywhere in the hall Plebe year. Don't get him started on Beauty and the Beast, or any other Disney movie, for that matter. If you have a computer problem, he is the hardware master, and he even likes helping out (the Brigade MISLO doesn't pride on customer service the way Shawn does). He doesn't like SWAT-style intrusions, but he forgives and then gives you some free software anyway. Shawn even enjoys change. He got kicked out of community college, he changed roommates every year, changed cars, changed majors, and changed his choice for service selection more times than we could count. (Who bases a career decision on dolphins?) And in the end, he service selected…husband? Actually, she's about the only thing he can decide on, which says quite a lot. We might shudder at the sound of the wedding bell (it tolls for thee), but we know that nobody deserves happiness more than our friend Shawn. (We'll assume that the gray hair means he knows what he's doing.) He returns to the Marine Corps a little bit older, a little bit wiser, with a new wife and good friends. We should all envy him.

Someday I'll be able to figure you out and when I do, you'll be coming to church with me on a weekly basis. CTR (Choose the Right), future lax coach at USNA, richie meade,, ball buster, watch out for drunk pilots, Ben Bailey made it his mission to single-handedly keep Acme in business. His efforts are so legendary that a statue will be erected on the dance floor, appropriately depicting Ben gettin down to "Shake Ya Tailfeather". Both Jones's stop telling me this stuff…, kicking my a$$ in PS2 everyday, NASCAR and the beer shower, Billy Bill and Will, the Grove and Fox and the Hound, "so Will why can't you walk…", watch out for those keys. A great friend. Saturday nights will never be the same, building a tolerance at the condo, remembering the empty case…..you tell me what happened and we'll both know ;-)…the road had to be built somewhere… grandfather clock…room 3221 and 3227, late night talks and chalk tossing competitions, our first calls ashore, acme, "you've got 45 min until practice"….."I know, but why are you sleeping on the bathroom floor?" Have no regrets! Aerosmith/Kiss, Niners/Ravens, the 5 hour drive to Phili, wait are you sure it's house #465? Memphis, improving the odds after starting off 2 for 4. Sweet Dreamin', Polar Bear Plunge, finally in a bathing suit… 21st birthdays…puke and rally, da bronco, preakness, sitting on the window ledge waiting, missing more classes than anyone thought humanly possible, you've been there done that and still made it. NFO in June….all the way baby! Plebe year's rough, youngster year a haze, 2nd class alittle better, firstie year the best, NFO…june fourth looking better and better everyday.

DIETZ!!!!! One moment Sir! The infamous beginning for The Dietz Platoon has continued throughout the last four years. The scary part is after reporting Dietz Platoon all present or accounted for he went on to become Brigade Adjutant. "DIETZ BRIGADE, 2004 PRESENT." Although he never said this we can never forgive, or forget, the insanity that followed this red-headed ditz as he ran his way through the Boat School. Maybe one day we'll forgive him for responding "Dietz Platoon, all present or accounted for!" But the comedy factor for us all when 2/C Murray freaked out while asking, "Dietz!! Who's accounted for?" is just too great. May he always be the shark hunting for the PMP bears, if for no other reason than being bald. "Stop Smiling Dietz!" - MSP

What was the Academy thinking when they let the little girl from NH into this place? Stanley Hanley, Bagel super white farm and Dean the Machine (yeah they were all hot). Then Slagle. Super G she broke her foot. But that didn't stop her going to Rivera's school for the Privileged with Gaby and TJ. While she was off at crew, Bernard just liked to hang around. And yes Gaby, she is crazy since she wants to fly the Osprey. Remember YP's to New York… probably not, but we all know Nate does. From the southern belle to the roommate from hell, she lived with them all. Jealous anyone? Then came the Lake Meade trip… Dan's the one who can't remember that. WWCGD and Ghetto 7 living. The 2/C cruise to exotic... Baltimore? Cake punting anyone… maybe a new sport? "Hey Gaby, want to run a marathon??" We didn't buy A's in Capt's class, we just bought him drinks. Eric, the conscience of our group...well almost. You are settling down and getting married, but not after a few reminders of your past. Drinking with Willy beer for beer, then puking at Bobby's commissioning ceremony. Throwing magazines and bean-bags at Jamo for two years. Orlando trip, renting a car as a plebe. Flexing by the pool...blinder in hand...anyone up for a margarita? "Dave Jeopardy's on at 7, want a rematch!" Lincoln, how about a bottle of wine? .....shipmate, got time for a haircut?? Access to cheap drinks at the Fleet reserve club. Being violated at the Red Rock Western Saloon, while meeting your future wife. By the way she thought he was a male stripper. Josephine bribing us with brownies and cookies. Last but not least opinions on nuke school, subs, the Academy and your favorite.....3 OUT 1 UP! Best of luck in California, catch a wave for us.

Life wouldn't be complete at USNA without somebody to keep it real, to tell it exactly like it is, and simply to KEEP IT DIRTY. The Last of a Dying Breed : THE REALEST. Somebody has to come out on top and we seemed to always find our way there. KEEP IT GANGSTA YOUNG DIRTY!!
DB, or should I say Dertee. Dave, the man with all the answers to wardrobe color coordination from head to toe. An athletic, smart, comical, ladies man that keeps the rythm in his feet. Bush, takin the fleet by stuntastic form. Holla at cha boy from Muskogee. MC
Girls call him David, I call him habib. Listens to loud music, lectures all the girls, rides on twenties, dances all the time. Money, girls, rims...what else is there. Met him in the weightroom, lived with him for 3 years, stay friends forever.

We spent three and a half years as room mates, serving as bad influences on one another. There were many a late night spent with video games and DVD's that were regretted in the morning. You gave me two things that I will never forget: waking up to the smell of whatever magical coffee you always brewed in the morning, and all the character you built during 2/C Spring Break. Congratulations on getting pilot. Now you have to show the fleet what Il Duce can do. Good luck with your future, I'll make sure I steer a straight course to make your landing easier. -Mike Tyree

Mike, the craziest and (don't tell anyone) most caring mid I know. God I hope you sleep in flight school. Video games are a terrible weakness, but you got pilot so they must have paid off. All those cookies and care packages fueled the fire. Sleeping with a sheath knife under your pillow and a gun in the bedside table, hope I never meet you in a dark alley. Crazy Californian. Crazy enough to get married that is. Perhaps someday you'll open Arnold's Pizza Shop. It'll be suiting, because I'm a choir boy compared to you. Through it all, we couldn't have gotten there without having such a great room. When I need some CAS, I hope you're the one coming to save my ass. -Brian Ehrhardt

He came to the Academy MM3, and will leave an officer because of one man, Lincoln, the Prez. Derrick Dreese, AKA Das Boot, Puppy, Daetoe, was always known as and always will be the warrior among us, the one knowledgeable about the ways of the world. There were a few lessons along the way even Das Boot had to learn. Many of them came from PQ, another highly knowledgeable about the world. The lesson about rules at the Annapolis mall comes to mind. Somebody get this guy a gift certificate for starbucks, cant get enough coffee. He may ask for the boot again but don't give it to him, his toe is better off without it. Looking back on the saga of PK-T, from the ditty bopping days of "Kepner, get some Rogain, heh heh heh" to the beginning of the Happy-Family-4-Ever youngster year, PK-T has had an impact on all the lives he has touched. To all those that know Paul well, we have all shared in the experience of watching his relationship with Paige blossom from the days of 3am, "No I wasn't sleeping babe" phone calls, to the "Hey, my phone's dead, can I use yours? Hey Paige!" moments, to the stage dancing wild woman of Ring Dance saga. We all just hope and pray that our ferocious night crawler, worm wielding, skateboard riding, skipping class for snowboarding, "I'm going surfing" friend will always remember the late night soft talks, sleeping in the dead rat stink-sack nights of B-D-B-D-B's. Eternal Father strong to save whose arm hath bound the restless wave who bidd'st the mighty ocean deep its own appointed limits keep oh, hear us when we cry to Thee for those in peril on the sea; O Christ! Whose voice the waters heard and hushed their raging at Thy word who walked'st on the foaming deep and calm amidst its rage didst sleep oh hear us when we cry to Thee for those in peril on the sea; Most Holy Spirit Who didst brood upon the chaos dark and rude and bid its angry tumult cease and give for wild confusion peace oh hear us when we cry to Thee for those in peril on the sea; O Trinity of love and power our brethren shield in danger's hour from rock and tempest, fire and foe protect them wheresoe'er they go thus evermore shall rise to Thee glad hymns of praise from land and sea!!

You made my life a living hell for 3 years. Burger King-whopper with cheese, "I am going to punch you in the face" little dooger. Now that Dan has vented let me just highlight your positives. For one, you have always been right about Dan. You are a crack shot. NRA forever. Also, you are as open minded as I am handsome. Some girls got away, but they weren't "that good". Southern rock is back on the rise, I completely agree. Dan and I will forever miss you and Chad giggling like girls on the phone. Or when you would scream like a girl whenever a shadow of a rodent would cross the floor. We also miss the pump handle, arm bar, cross face, and nude gorilla press. Very noble of you to teach us some wrestling moves in your free time. Remember the girdle you wore? Remember Orlando? "The hotel's so small from here". Ok, you really weren't that bad...the 18 hour Florida drive, Cocoa Beach, "Hey Steve, look who's here!", "I'm so burnt! Ahh!", and of course little raptor noises in the middle of peaceful happy naps...Hope you fly better than you drive YP's. We know you will. Thanks for being loyal, stubborn, ambitious, and always where we needed you to be. Your best friends for life, Paul and (I really do love you) Dan. P.S.-bdbdbdbd

Lennydeutschypopposchnitkopf, you could've let the Asian kids that chased you home from school everyday hold you back from beating Final Fantasy X, XII, and XVI, but you didn't. Sister Deloris: Mr. Reddeg, please recite Habakkuk 1:12. "and he came down from the mountain with...Ahhhhhh." And that homeless guy in SF tried to hold you back, but you sure showed him. We tried to hold you back w/ 16 slices of American cheese. Spawn gave you nightmares. Sheila and Picture Man, father of 2. Restraining order against the girl of your dreams. Trapped naked and fully shaved in Paul's bed frame, but you made it out. The sun in Vero Beach brought you within an inch of your life, but Steve survived. SPF 4: Good call. Car torture. The Navy has made every effort to suppress your genius creativity, but the poetry and art kept coming. Even the "trainer" on your chest tried holding those bad boys back, but Mardi Gras freed them for good. And for that matter, how dare that youngster not give you her name?! You've come a long way from from your days of "Lenny Stinknut" and we don't want him coming back now. Our Brown Suga from TX. Spring Break Bahamas '01. NAPS 2000, baby "The Brown" was born. Sleeping through plebe year in Rob's basement. Whose house? Rob's house. Shady, shady youngster star and a 40 of Puckers? What? Intercessionals, hangin' out with the PZ's . . . CPZ??? Ring Dance, once again, MPZ. Leatherneck, spooning in the cold, you loved it. Lindsey will never think of the treeline the same without you. You're the eye of the tiger, you're the king of the fight . . . Our boxing babe forever. What, What!!! Love, LPZ, LAS, JLG, LMB If there is one thing you can say about Amber, it's that she has a lot of heart. When she was told she couldn't do something, she kept fighting, even when nobody else would help. That's how she became one of the first females to be allowed to fight in Brigades. She became a Marine partially because people told her she couldn't. She's strong willed. Nobody so small has ever been as intimidating. She was never afraid to tell anyone exactly what she thought. There are two sides to Amber, the girly side and the tough side. She makes it work somehow, like the pink boxing gloves on her board. Those of us that really know her found out that she's really a sweetheart, and that she really loves cheese. She did every job the best she could, even when she didn't want to do it, and she was always there for her friends. EDS

Aaron Hickman is the only one of us who has been a striper since Plebe year. Hick, de la where? The only reason for any productivity in Unit 3 frequently stopped productivity to point out our lack of productivity. He was also one of the major reasons that Swerve graduated (at least, we hope he did). The fact that Hick was the "slave driver" of the group adds an element of irony that was at least medium funny. Coming from a family of millions, his key to success was simple: "When doing the worm, you want to avoid the flying push-up look; the desired effect is more of a flying dive-bomber." The token black guy is most situations (Glee Club, Unit 3, Navigators, Brigade Staff, Delaware), Hick was constantly found sporting his panty hose on his head. "Have you seen my wave cap?" Four years after I-Day, Hick actually started to like us, he even started to warm to… (See J. Allen of 12th Co. or for more on Hick, read on) Never was there a more grateful, outspoken, obnoxious, caring, fun, super intelligent, wickedly handsome, excitable, and eternally patient friend. Hick and Lantz are closer than any brothers I could ever have. Saved so many people, including me, by going out your way and doing what you believed in. Be Blessed. You came in here a Marine and now you're going out as one—2nd LT Lantz! That sounds great man! Started off with 2-3 (Schmidt and Paul) and came a long way since "Lantz, Ship, Shipmate" Plebe year sucked but you were humble to swallow your pride and be with us straight-out-of-high-school kids—led by example and gave humor to a lot of bullshit. Youngstar year was awesome with football games on Friday, sleeping in, had some trouble staying out of trouble but we got a handle on it. You lost one roomie 2nd class year, but more than made up for it when we came back as firsties. Ah Firstie year, kickin ass in everything, best squad leader, first white gospel choir president, 'super sailor', look out it's a 3-striper, service assignment night, it all coming together shaking hands welcomed back to the Corps, "What's the matter Lion-O?", WTF mate?, rah!?, what the fuck is rah?, I'll never forget our small laughs and how you could make me mad or smile like no other. These have been the best years of my life. I'm glad you helped me make them that way. Semper Fidelis, and forever your friend.

Nick came to us from the Taft School, with all the polished finish of a New England intellectual. Naturally, we did our best to scratch up the polish. We took him fishing and fed him cheap beer. We took him to Hagerstown and, we took him to Hagerstown. When he brought down his nice cars we put the Mustang in a ditch, broke off pieces of his BMW, and made out with girls on the leather seats. We even tried to fight him in the parking lot of a gas station in North Carolina. But in the end it was Nick who shaped us at least as much as we shaped him. His musical tastes, though often annoying, expanded our own. His arguments, though often frustrating, forced us to reconsider ours. And his actions, though often baffling, reminded us that there was life outside of midregs.

Lifetime Sticky Card Member of Club 28 (did anyone ever actually figure out what was on your ID?...Proud architect of the Hanging Gardens of 8-4...Is fiancé the guy or girl one? Is this OK for Thomas to watch? And shepherds we shall be...I told you never to trust a monkey...that homeless guy we killed on YPs...Oh, and remember boxing, well I guess that's an unfair question...Wait, someone threw the keg at you? So when the Officer of the Watch opened the door, Brian was standing there dripping wet and completely naked holding the knife, and what were you doing again? Speaking of naked how was Jamaica? That day was definitely not yours...OK, so we didn't kill a homeless guy but who really reads these anyway...How do you play ping-pong with three people? Well, Jack mostly watches...this is why we can't have nice things...If you ask me, I don't know why you don't see more Panzer tanks at weddings. They're very majestic... and dignified...Anyway, I hope you guys find every happiness...and all I'm saying is that I want to look back and say that I did it the best I could while I was stuck in this place. Had as much fun as I could while I was stuck in this place. Played as hard as I could while I was stuck in this place...Keep it real. To my knowledge, until Lucas Raymond Dreyer graced the p-ways of this fine institution, no person had graduated based entirely on good looks alone. He is the first to do so and he is mighty attractive. Seriously, look at the picture next to this. He's a contemporary Dorian Gray—an Adonis if you will. His achievements here at the trade school, if carefully documented would certainly fill one side of a 3x5 note card. While maintaining his prestigious class rank in the high nine hundreds, Luke somehow found time in his hectic schedule to nap, examine countless movies, listen to impressive amounts of music, and polish off slice after slice of Dahlgren Hall sausage and bacon pizza. Perhaps, his only downfall existed with the strange odor that emitted from within his con locker. Some would argue this was actually a blessing because it added to his already famous mystique. No one knew for sure where the distinct odor came from. It may have been the ever growing pile of sweaty laundry or perhaps it was….no, it was definitely the pile of laundry. Luke is a true friend to everyone who knows him and I think after his five years in the fleet, his name will be immortalized as one of the greatest Lieutenant JGs this or any Navy has ever seen.

What can I say about Bobby Griff, the Stormin' Mormon. He started off in 2002 and decided that he liked 2004 better for some reason. The two year delay was spent in the Guat where he trekked through the jungles with just his machette and his Book of Mormon. He came back knowing Spanish and with some girl he claims to have met down there. How he conned her into thinking he was cool, I still dont know. Bobby was not only my company mate in good old 22nd Company, but also my roommate through a very trying Youngster year. This was a year that included PRT Failures (disqualified by the Nazi's on situps), the infamous Fryin' Hawaiian, Larry, ghetto rap tunes, more Fryin' Hawaiian, the first of the two hurricanes he lived through at USNA, Banana Wars with Tyrone, Rogue Spear/Rainbow Six tournaments, being called Mr. Griffiths and offered candy by the Fryin' Hawaiian (see a trend?), a roommate trying to sneak out a window instead of using a door, and last but not least, the Shower Scene. We had some great times and some bad times (Oops I did it again), but 6 years later we're still friends and now you're

Adam Reel provided a very necessary counterbalance to the general indifference of 28th Company. When 'Reel Deal' entered a room you could actually feel the level of professionalism rise exponentially. He showed me that you can never let the little stuff slide- NEVER!! Furthermore, he taught me handy ways to apply the honor concept at home. How could I forget all the times Adam demanded more from me when I was sure I couldn't go any further. Times when I was certain the bar just couldn't be raised—Adam found a way. Whether it be the time he demanded all of Room Ramrod show up for a self imposed Alpha inspection on a Saturday night, or the time he fried himself for thinking about giving less than his best in a urinalysis—Adam refused to settle for anything but two hundred and ten percent. He is the sausage on my bacon pizza, which is to say he doubles my pork.

It has been a long road traveled to get where I am today. When all else fails, rely the most on those you trust. You know who you are and for that I thank you.
Dan Daly's shouted challenge takes on its true meaning - if you lie in the trenches you may survive for now, but someday you will die and no one will care. If you charge the guns you may die in the next two minutes, but you will be one of the immortals. All Marines die; some in the red flash of battle, some in the white cold of the nursing home. In the vigor of youth or the infirmity of age, all will eventually die. But the Marine Corps lives on. Every Marine who ever lived is living still - in the Marines who claim the title today. It is that sense of belonging to something that will outlive your own mortality, which gives people a light to live by and a flame to mark their passing.
Passed on to a Marine from another Marine!
Sweat dries, blood clots, bones heal. Suck it up.
Be a MARINE. Semper Fi,

The closest of friends... ever. We're comprised of so diverse individuals that it's amazing how we all get along. But that's how it worked, we fit in with another, complimenting one another so well that ordinary conversations end up being just series of uncontrollable spurts of laughter and 'remember whens'. This brotherhood is built on a rock, a foundation consisting countless of unique and unforgettable memories. We shared it all . We owe it all to our families. To my parents Virgilio and Carmelita and my sisters Rachel and Sarah, thank you and I truly appreciate everything you do for me. To our extended families (Miss Laura, Ryan, and Lindsay) who without them, I could not for see this love and friendship possible. To my baby, I'll miss you. Thank you to Mom and Dad. I would never be who I am today without you. Thank you to Tim and Kelly. I will always be there for you like you are for me. I love you all so much. Thanks to the guys from 2004 who kept the last year fun. Thank you to everyone from the Class of 2003, my class. You all know who you are and I would never have made it through here without all of you, especially the hard part. EM, MT, GS, BS, DR, SH, ML, MW, LP, Crew guys… you're never going to read this, but thank you. I've had some bad times, but I'll remember the good because of you. Now it's definitely time to go and "The forecast is 100% chance of fun."- MT. Class of 2003.

Introductions; 4th Squad, this is Ollie; he is going to fix you. Struggling through Capt. Lemieux's class, inseparable friends, thanksgivings, YP's together. The rise to greatness, "pile," a new record for stripes, that goofy grin, the good, the bad, my advice that you never listened to (esp girls). One time at Middleton's … I was not… Yes you were – admit you enjoyed it. Never-ending supply of harassment from the other two. I will never date a …. UM! Friendships, departed friends, roomies…. Going green, exchanging conversation for grunts, your sucking up to Dirk proved to be half true. To a true friend, your dreams of flying are finally being realized in planes far cooler than Cessna's. Thanks, I could not have done it without you, good luck. AMI & JDH.

Put away your shoes as I take you for a ride, with this Berserker, or should I say pirate, in the QWP we all did hide it. On the way to Cornell, no, no cups in his hands, his foot to the metal as he flipped through the bands. Turn up the bass, with that look upon this face, 30% the population is the target we be facin', glow sticks in his hands and spandex on his pipes, he'll throw down with five if the moment is right. I have my doubts that such a naturally mope person has ever walked the decks of Bancroft. From his first day on the green mile, were he looked like he was lost, to his last downtrodden look at the kind-of-waxed deck of eighth wing, he always had a sad "nobody loves me look". Fortunately he was able to drown his trouble in the non-stop production of musicals and organ concerts. For three years his unmatched leadership in the Music Department won the praise of the Administration. What the music department will do without him is unclear. Oh well, everyone must retire. –JDGYou tried to hate me plebe year, but then you found out that I just don't ever go away, so you were forced to be friends with me...plus, we had too much in common....both from Chicago, both in every choir imaginable, both in the musical, and both suffering from codependency... thanks for showing me that I will never be truly healthy without good psychological help. The Great Bob-O received his appointment to USNA 13 minutes before the swearing in ceremony on I-Day and he quickly proved himself worthy of his title as "The Most Bad-ass Drum Major Ever." Despite his "emotional detachment" from friends and family, Bob is always game for a Disney song and can make a room look like "God came down and licked the floor." From the Halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli we fight our country's battles in the air on land and sea.
First to fight for right and freedom and to keep our honor clean;
We are proud to bear the title of United States Marines. Our flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun;
We have fought in every clime and place where we could take a gun. In the snow of far-off Northern lands and in sunny tropic scenes; You will find us always on the job --The United States Marines. Here's health to you and to our Corps which we are proud to serve; In many a strife we've fought for life and never lost our nerve. If the Army and the Navy ever look on Heaven's scenes, they will find the streets are guarded by United States Marines.

Marshall Thomas "PARKER" Boyd. Remember this face. If you are a female between the ages of 14 and 39 and happen to live in the Greater Annapolis Area, chances are you will never be able to forget. Enter Parker Boyd, hero to thousands, boyfriend to one, roommate to two, father to three, and Navy SEAL to the Corps. During his four years by the bay, "the ole' Parker" participated actively in the local SPCA chapter and improved relations with Annapolis Women's Correctional Facilities, in addition to being the Men's Swim Team Captain and service selecting Special Warfare. The Parker was at home in the water… the land, however, presented many obstacles, all of which had a potent combination of estrogen and psychosis coursing through their veins. They came from all walks of life, and his roommates never ceased to be amazed at "what the Parker dragged in." Greatest Quotes: "It can't be 0630… I have practice at 0530!" "I just blew! I wasn't even happy I was chill." "I'll nail 'em all! Race, Color, Gender… I don't discriminate." "Orrr.." "Once I break the seal, IT'S ON." La la la…that's the sound of Marshall chasing squirrels (they're worth a wall jump…yeah right!). Who woulda thought the innocent, scrawny boy from Pittsburgh would grow up to be a seal. Good luck …don't forget all the good times. Your spontaneous, random comments will be missed. Navy SEAL, Systems Engineer, Swim Team Captain, and quite possibly the greatest friend and roommate anyone could ever ask for.

Not much is known about the origins of Midshipman 042622. It is believed that he was not born, but rather grown as a part of a top-secret government experiment in genetics. In the mid 1980's after several "incidents" the experiment was deemed too unstable to continue. Secondary protocol was implemented and all subjects involved were slated for termination. However, as it is with all government endeavors the mess was not completely cleaned. One of the subjects known as experiment 133+ was able to escape and avoid the government's attempt to destroy the horror that they created. Through sheer luck, 133+ stumbled upon a young man who looked to be his exact double. "Are you my evil twin," the unsuspecting youth asked, "Yes! I am," 133+ replied as he plunged a knife into the boy's chest. 133+ then assimilated himself into the young man's life, taking on the identity of Grant Kelly Graeber. The inherent nature of his genetics drives him toward one purpose and one purpose only: to take over the world. The most important piece in his puzzle of world domination is the mastery of military strategy and tactics, as well as "blood to oil the machines of my capitalist regime." This led him to become Midshipman 042622 at the United States Naval Academy. In his time here he has corrupted five roommates and created the most elaborate master control center ever conceived. While working at his plans for ruling the earth he constantly screams, "For teh Unification."

The all-American kid from Montana hoped for the rapture as he stared through the blinds of his plebe room. You thought that the world was ending four years ago, but, really, it was just beginning. "It only gets better from here." Think back to the days of eating the cows you raised and playing endless hours of basketball in your Hoosier-like gym. Those years will always be a part of you, and so will those at OOHSNA. Now, whose that an impression of? Jean Claude? "To inspire and be inspired." "Why don't you just flush this one down your toilet and see what comes back up"… yeah, you don't like anyone to say anything nice about you, so I won't, but… It's been said that "There's a fire in this young man that can set the world ablaze." Long live the dark side! Well gosh, I can't believe you've never had rocky mountain oysters! You've crushed every challenge you've ever faced, and, by God's grace, you will step out into the world… I mean… back-handspring into the world and show them how wonderful life can be! Surfer boy Brian opted to come to USNA instead of serving jail time for possession of illegal substances. A surfer dude without the board (It's all about the mentality right!?) From the sandy beaches of Santa Barbara. After shedding his drug habit, Storj spent his time trying to pick up chicks while playing the quasi-manly sport of volleyball trying to perfect his bumping, setting, and spiking. "Storjo.....Stop trying to hit!" Sipsip...don't say it. Higher score means someone owes me dinner. Storjo had to let a few of the local ladies down gently, and inflicted several fatal wounds with his sword. Why are you always hookin' up with my friends?!? Finally he found his true love just a few short steps away and wooed her with his patented dance move, the "double fisted bump n' grind." She loves him for his overkill of terrible punk rock; his Fragrance O' Feet, and never ending supply of hair gel. When all else fails you sure as hell know how to make a good urinal steam. CANCUN 2002!!! Brought balance into the shoebox we called a room. Corny jokes, websites, and more corny jokes....and websites. If we don't know where you are, we can always look in DTA! Six carbombs and half the night later, "Can you give me a ride to the airport?, YACK!!" "Is it b that I wanna hook up with her?!?!?!" Here's hoping you finally become Maverick and many afternoons of playing shirtless volleyball.
